Hull Warns Mexico On Seizures

CHARGE PACT VIOLATIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today warned the Mexican government that diplomatic relations between it and this government were strained because of Mexico's continued confiscation of American owned property.

The note was one of the longest, and, according to veteran diplomats here, the most bluntly worded diplomatic communication delivered to any foreign government by the United States since the World War. It was handed to the Mexican ambassador, Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera last Monday, but made public only today because of the time required for the document to reach Mexico City by mail.

"Diplomacy Fails"

Hull reiterated previous proposals to arbitrate the claims for American-owned agrarian land expropriated by Mexico, but added:

"I find it necessary emphatically to state that, after many years of patient endeavor on the part of this government to obtain just satisfaction for these claims without success, the government of the United States has regretfully reached the conclusion that it is impossible to adjust them by diplomacy."

He called upon Mexico to desist from further seizures of American-owned properties pending a settlement for those already seized, unless such seizures are accompanied "by arrangements for adequate, prompt and effective payment."

Offers Two Plans

Although the note bristled with charges of "confiscation" and of Mexican violation not alone of international treaties and international law, but of fundamental laws of all American nations regarding the sanctity of private property, he suggested two previously offered methods of arbitration:

1. That suggested in his note of July 21, whereby two commissioners, one selected by each country, arbitrate the claims.
2. That provided for by the so-called Gonda treaty of 1923, whereby the treaty's permanent commission at Washington would select one arbitrator to decide the disputed questions.

NEW SEIZURE OF LANDS REPORTED

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 26.—(UP)—A new surge of land seizures has been reported by the American owners of 325,000,000 worth of grazing lands in the Mexican state of Chihuahua today, in the face of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's request that Mexico desist from further expropriation.

A source at the American consulate in Juarez revealed that nearly every American holding in Mexico's largest state had been "affected" by agrarian invasion within recent months, several of them within the past few weeks.

Some of the agrarian activity has amounted to outright invasion, described by the informant as "illegal" under Mexican agrarian laws. In these cases, Mexican farmers have invaded American property without filing claims, and have taken possession before seeking "legal" right to expropriate the land.

American cattle companies hold title to 5,000,000 acres of grazing land in Chihuahua.

One of the largest of these holdings is that of William Randolph Hearst, American publisher, whose Babicora ranch totals a million acres.

Menton Answers Allen Ruling

District Attorney W. F. Menton replied to Superior Judge James L. Allen's notice refusing to call a special session of the grand jury to investigate a political pamphlet. The district attorney, while not criticizing the judge for declining to call the grand jury, did oppose Judge Allen's view that there was no legal authority for the requested investigation.

Menton called the judge's attention to Section 915 of the penal code, which he said provided authority for summoning the grand jury.

His letter said:

"I have no criticism whatever to offer as to your declining to impanel the grand jury. This is a matter entirely within your discretion and judgment, and except for the erroneous impressions left by your version of the law would not require any answer. . . . Under the provisions of Section 915 of the penal code, which defines in part the powers of the grand jury, that body is authorized to 'inquire into all public offenses committed or triable within the county.'"

Forgets Trials

Although the blue-ribbon jury for his trial as front man for the Dutch Schultz racket was under constant supervision of guards in hot Manhattan over the Sabbath, James J. Hines, above, enjoyed sea breezes at Long Beach, L. I. He is pictured on the links at the Lido Country Club, where he played golf with his son Philip.

Nab Two Women On Murder Charge

FAIRFIELD, Ill., Aug. 26.—(UP)—Sheriff Ernest Burkett announced today that two young Tennessee housewives, who left their husbands two weeks ago to seek adventure, had confessed the slaying for robbery of Felix Shannon, 56, well-to-do farmer.

Burkett said the women, Mrs. Jean Brooks, 23, Elizabethtown, Tenn., and Mrs. Beulah Honeycutt, 25, Johnson City, Tenn., had blamed each other for the slaying.

He said they had named James Wallace, 28, Princeton, Ind., as an accessory. As a result of their statements, Wallace has been arrested and is being held at Princeton pending extradition proceedings, Burkett said.

Hurricane Whips Yucatan Area

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 26.—(UP)—A tropical hurricane battered across the southern end of the Yucatan peninsula into the southern portion of the Gulf of Mexico today, threatening shipping in the lower gulf.

The federal hurricane warning system located the storm at 7 a. m. EST, near Progreso, on the northwest Yucatan coast.

The storm's course, which had been to the northwest for 24 hours, showed a definite shift to the west-northwest, the warning system reported.

When the storm battered Cozumel island, off the Yucatan peninsula, late yesterday, it disrupted communications with the island. Winds of 35 miles an hour were recorded just before communications failed.

Death Rides Ridge Route

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 26.—(UP)—Three men were killed by a heavy truck and trailer which caught fire and thundered out of control at 80 miles an hour down a grade on the Ridge route one mile south of Grapevine Station, Coroner N. C. Houze reported today.

The dead were:

William A. Miller, 40, Summit, Tex.

James Marshall, Fellows, Cal.

H. E. Foster, Taft Cal.

Charles R. Dawson, of Alameda, Cal., driver of the truck, and Leroy Woolf, his helper also of Alameda, escaped with minor injuries after their machine crushed to death two men in a light delivery truck and struck down a third victim who was walking across the highway.

COAST FISHERMEN IN BITTER BATTLE

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., Aug. 26.—(UP)—District Attorney Ben B. Knight today warned Santa Cruz fishermen against taking the law in their own hands in their bitter dispute with Monterey and San Francisco purse seine operators, whom local fishermen charge have destroyed thousands of dollars worth of their nets and equipment.

Knight intervened in the controversy following reports that Santa Cruz fishermen had taken rifles aboard their salmon and shark boats for a "showdown" with the purse seine crews.

Spokesmen for the local fishermen charged the purse seiners have "sidetracked the good neighbor attitude" and have swept "rough shod" over the Santa Cruz shark and salmon grounds, ruining many nets of the local boats with their heavier craft and endangering the lives of the crews.

Several boats, including a coast guard cutter, investigated the apparent sinking of a small boat owned by Gordon Webster, Santa Cruz, off Cypress Point. It was feared Webster and George Nerli, a companion, went down with the craft.

Four Santa Cruz fishing craft returning with their night's catch today and reporting finding several fishing nets—some cut to shreds—floating several miles distant from the fishing grounds.

Fishing Poor

The local shark and salmon boats are comparatively small compared with the purse seiners. The local craft carries crews of from one to three men. The purse seiners are manned by six to 15 men each, and operate in the sardine fields to supply local shorewise and offshore reduction plants.

Salmon fishing has been the poorest in years in the Santa Cruz area, fishermen said, but the sharks have taken the salmon's place as revenue producers.

The California State Fish and Game commission's boat Bluefin was expected to arrive here today to investigate the situation.

Loyalists Claim Victory

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Government dispatches asserted today that a new Loyalist counter offensive on the Estremadura front in southwestern Spain had removed the last Nationalist threat to the rich mercury mines around Almaden.

A government communique, while admitting a slight setback in the month-old battle along the Ebro river front in northeastern Spain, claimed that a swift attack west of Almaden took the insurgents by surprise.

The reformed Loyalist divisions, aided by airplanes and tanks, were said to have taken eight villages on the west bank of the Zujar river, in the area where insurgent Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano advanced last week.

URGE ABSORPTION OF BUDGET ITEMS

Absorption of two items in the 1938-39 fiscal budget totaling $160,000, was urged today by a special committee of the Property Owners' association in a communication to the Orange county board of supervisors.

The letter, signed by five members of the committee, stressed the need for economy and recommended that the $60,000 general election expense, and the $100,000 set down as a flood control item be absorbed.

Rain Is Answer To Indian Rites

SHONGOPOLI, Ariz., Aug. 26.—(UP)—It rained today in northeastern Arizona. The Hopi Indians hardly had finished their snake dance, their tribal prayer for rain, when the Hopi reservation got a soaking.

Many tourists had driven hundreds of miles to see the Indians perform the ceremony in which they carry live rattlesnakes in their hands or wrap them around their bodies. Legend has it that rain always comes soon after the Hopis quit dancing.

It was the second time this year they had appealed to their rain god. It also was the second time heavy rains had followed.

Milk Prices Fall In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Housewives today awaited possible further reduction in milk prices as a "milk price war" developed, with "cash and carry" milk selling as low as 7 1/2 cents a quart at numerous stores.

Price-cutting started following a recent court ruling that portions of the state milk control act were unconstitutional.

Prices of milk delivered at homes remained unchanged.

Milk men said that any further reductions below the price of 7 1/2 cents at the stores would be illegal and would result in heavy losses to producers.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 26.—(UP)—President Roosevelt reported today that he and Postmaster General James A. Farley were "in complete agreement" after long conversations in which the political situations in several states were explored.

Beyond that brief, authorized direct quotation, however, the chief executive would not go.

"Invasion" Looms

Observers, nevertheless, were of the opinion that "complete agreement" meant that the President would invade Maryland in his campaign against renomination of Sen. Millard Tydings inasmuch as Farley yesterday said that he would urge such a course.

Farley returned to New York after having spent the night as the guest of the President. It was his first visit with Mr. Roosevelt in

TO NAME LEADERS IN ROASTING CASE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Coroner Charles H. Hersch announced today that he would arrest six "higher-ups" and guards at the Philadelphia county prison and break the case of the "roasted" convicts "wide open" before night.

Hersch, under an ancient law, had taken complete charge of the huge, high-walled prison where four convicts were roasted to death over last week-end and where 21 escaped the same fate only because they were not subjected to the "discipline" an hour longer.

Two Sought For Torturing Boys

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Two attendants at Chicago's largest amusement park were sought today on a charge of having tortured two teen-age boys whom they had found using a penny arcade machine which was out of order and could be operated without inserting a coin.

Police said witnesses told them the victims, Clarence Fleckenstein, 13, and Matthews Morgan Jr., 15, had been abused after the men caught them using the machine. The Morgan boy was strung up by his thumbs until he fainted, police said.

Witnesses said the men laced the boys' hands behind their heads and forced them to perform knee-bending exercises until they fainted from exhaustion.

Judge N. J. Bonelli issued assault and battery warrants against the attendants.

16 Arabs Killed By Explosion

JERUSALEM, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Sixteen Arabs were killed and 30 wounded today when a bomb exploded in the crowded vegetable market at Jaffa.

Details of the bombing were difficult to obtain because of new censorship regulations imposed by British authorities.

All press comment regarding the activities of terrorists, the police and British military forces were prohibited. Only official communications issued by authorities are publishable.

His bravado dispelled by a bullet, "Bad Man" Floyd Hamilton, pictured here, right, with his desperado pal, Ted Walters, told Dallas, Tex., police he prefers the electric chair to a long prison sentence. Police said they would co-operate. Hamilton and Walters, whose names topped the list of those sought by G-men, were seized without a fight by two Dallas detectives, after Hamilton had received the wound in his leg in an escape from federal agents.

CANDIDATES IN SCRAMBLE FOR FAVOR AS ELECTION DAY NEARS

By John W. Dunlap

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 26.—(UP)—California's legion of political candidates scrambled for favor today, just three days before the Aug. 30 primary, while a patient public became steadily wearier of campaign oratory.

U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo was having difficulty in hushing charges he was a former member of the Klu Klux Klan. Despite his denials of the accusation first leveled at him by Peirson M. Hall, campaign manager for Sheridan Downey, the veteran Democratic Senator was barred again last night from a new front, James W. Mellen, of Los Angeles, another Democratic opponent, not only accused McAdoo of the Klan charges but added that Hall had little right to voice the KKK issue since "he too is a former Klansman."

Child Killed By Truck Driven By Brother

Chicko Kawaratan, one year and four-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otokichi Kawaratan, who reside on the Bank of America ranch near San Clemente, was dead today—the victim of a front yard tragedy in which she died under the wheels of a truck driven by her brother, Hideo Otokichi, 17.

The Kavaratanis told Coroner Earl Abbey and other investigating officials that Hideo went to the truck, which was standing in the front yard at 5:30 p. m. yesterday, and did not notice that his little sister was playing there.

After Hideo backed the truck out of the yard, he saw the lifeless body of the child. Coroner Abbey said she died of a crushed skull, a wheel of the vehicle had passed over her head.

The body was taken to the Divel funeral home in San Clemente, where an inquest is pending.

Stewart Dollar Seriously Ill

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(UP)—H. Stewart Dollar, 26, grandson of Capt. Robert Dollar, founder of the Dollar Steamship lines, was reported in a "serious" condition at Grant hospital today from a mysterious ailment.

Dr. David A. Herstein said Dollar was placed in an oxygen tent early today and was in a comatose condition. Later he was removed and "seemed to be coming out of it," the doctor said.

"I have not been able to determine the exact cause of his illness," Herstein said, "but it appears that he may have taken an overdose of a sleeping powder or tablets which he had been taking for a heart ailment. I believe that is the case."

Plan Marketing Of Grape Crop

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Approximately 450,000 tons of California's record 2,500,000 ton grape crop will be shipped east, and the remainder will go to the state's 600 wineries, it was indicated today.

The estimate was made by C. J. Carey of San Francisco, manager of the state agriculture department's grape prorate program that goes into effect Sept. 1. Carey said the industry hopes to avoid marketing losses.

"Growers expect to receive $15 a ton for the wine tonnage, and sufficient for the balance, through federal subsidies and bank cooperation, to net them approximately $11 for the whole crop," he said.

Start Search For Drowning Victim

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 26.—(UP)—Deputy sheriffs today directed a search for the body of Roland McCrummen, 21, of Lubbock, Tex., who drowned while swimming in the San Joaquin river 35 miles west of here last night.

McCrummen who arrived here two days ago from Texas with a truckload of cattle for R. H. Beck, a cattleman, apparently was seized with cramps. He sank before his five girl companions could aid him and was swept downstream by a strong current, authorities said.

The youth was swimming with daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Beck.

JAPAN GETS HULL'S NOTE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today lodged an emphatic protest with the Japanese government over the destruction of a Chinese national commercial airliner piloted by an American pilot near Hong-kong on Wednesday.

The protest was delivered to the Japanese foreign office by American Ambassador Joseph C. Grey, upon cabled instructions from Hull.

Hull protested against the "unwarranted attack" upon the Chinese airliner, the loss of life among the non-combatant passengers and the endangering of the life of the American pilot, as well as the destruction of property in which an American concern has "a very substantial interest."

The protest made particular point of the report of the American pilot, Hugh L. Wood, that the Japanese planes machine-gunned the stricken airliner after it was forced down on the river, and machine-gunned the survivors of the plane who were attempting to swim ashore.

The note said that the attack on the plane "has aroused public feeling in the United States."

"Emphatic Objection"

"I am directed to point out to your excellency, with reference to the attack in question, that not only was the life of an American national directly imperiled but loss was also occasioned to American property interests as the Pan American Airways has a very substantial interest in the China National Aviation corporation," the note said.

"My government desires to express its emphatic objection to the jeopardizing in this way of the lives of American as well as other non-combatant occupants of unarmed civilian planes engaged in clearly recognized and established commercial services over a regularly scheduled air route."

JAPANESE CLAIM ATTACK JUSTIFIED

TOKYO, Aug. 26.—(UP)—The foreign office spokesman said today that the Japanese attack on the American piloted Chinese National Aviation Corp. passenger liner was justified because it "suspiciously attempted to evade pursuers."

The spokesman said the attacking planes were of the regular Japanese coast patrol and were not specifically hunting the big Douglas plane which was forced down near Macao Wednesday and its passengers machine-gunned.

Observed Rules

Japanese aviators are observing rules formulated at the Hague conference under which civilian planes are liable to attack when they are within hostile zone, he said.

The spokesman said that the attack occurred within the zone outlined by the foreign office last June 20.

The Japanese army and navy air forces will be unable to guarantee the safety of civilian planes, he said, but it would help Japanese authorities if they were notified in advance of civilian flights over the area.

KELLY NOW FAVORED IN STATE AMATEUR

DEL MONTE — (UP) — Roger Kelly's chances of becoming the first amateur in a decade to win the California state amateur golf championship twice running appeared improved today as the field of eight entered the quarter-final round. Barring a surprise showing, there wasn't a golfer of Kelly's class among the survivors who play 18 holes today for the privilege of entering tomorrow's 36 hole semi-finals.

The other seven were sound golfers, mainly steady players, but they lacked the class of the Los Angeles law student who won this title last year, captured medalist honors in the 1937 National Amateur, and took medal honors here this year.

Kelly's opponent today was Jack Colmar of Sacramento, while in the other half of the same bracket, Gus Deider of San Francisco and Jim Westervelt of Ventura were paired.

In the lower half, Dan Green Jr., Glendale, took on Bob McGlashan, University of San Francisco team captain, and Ralph Hoffman, Oakland's giant killer, met Jimmy French, San Francisco.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

We haven't had an "ice water pickle" recipe this season so it's time for it, right now. If you have shied away from pickle making, just take time out to read this recipe and see how easy pickle making can be.

Ice Water Pickles
6 lbs. smallish cucumbers
Plenty of chopped ice and a quart of cold water
6 medium sized onions, peeled and sliced
stalk of celery, sliced, for each jar
1 tsp mustard seed for each jar
3 qts. of white vinegar boiled with
3 cups of white sugar and
1 cup salt. —contributed.

Scrub the cucumbers, cut in thick or thin slices, and submerge in chopped ice and water for three hours. Drain and pack in clean hot jars with onions, celery and mustard seed. Prepare the boiled pickling syrup, and fill the jars with the hot solution, sealing each jar as filled. Cool, bottom side up, before storing, and examine tops to see that they are properly tightened.

Save yourself grief and breakage by slipping a silver knife into each jar before pouring the boiling hot liquid over the icy-cold cucumbers.

There's one thing about our Safe and Sane reducing diet; you feel like a million dollars while on it, and you look like two million when your weight has gone down enough to permit additions to the diet. To get a copy, write for it, enclosing a stamped, addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Scrambled Eggs With Dried Beef

1/4 lb. (1 glassful) dried beef
1 tsp butter
3 eggs, well beaten before mixing with
3 tbsps milk —contributed.

Clip the beef into thin strips and soak in cold water a few minutes, bring to a boil and drain. Put the beef into melted butter in a hot skillet, add the eggs and milk and stir until cooked to creamy softness. Pile on a platter and garnish with chopped parsley.

We find that the dried beef is greatly improved by frying it. That means that the butter must be doubled and the beef fried to the near-crisp stage before the eggs go into the pan.

Date Pudding

1 package of dates, seeded and cut fine
1 scant tsp soda
1 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1 1/4 cups flour
1 tsp vanilla —contributed.

Soak the dates before slicing and seeding. Put dates into a bowl and cover with boiling water mixed with soda. In another bowl, beat the egg adding sugar gradually, alternate flour and dates with liquid until all items are in.

On September 8, the championship Santa Ana foursome will go to Glendale to receive their championship award they won in Royal Roque play. The Santa Ana team will compete in the big field day tournament scheduled for that day. Glendale was selected as the site of the field day and presentation of awards because of a shortage of Roque courts in Santa Ana. Eddie Gowan, sponsor of the inter-city tournament and president of the San Diego Roque club announced.

Two Brush Fires Burn 20 Acres

Two small brush fires in the county called out members of state fire departments yesterday. Twenty acres of brush land on San Juan Capistrano creek were burned over occasioning a loss of about $40. State trucks from San Juan Capistrano and Orange, with Elmer Osterman in charge of the former and Rollo Hazeltine of the latter, were sent to the blaze. The second fire burned over about one-half acre of an eucalyptus grove near Anaheim at McKinley and Lincoln avenues. Joe Scherman, state forest ranger was in charge.

Floyd Amundson Called by Death Empty Trunk Is Still Mystery

Floyd A. Amundson, 50, San Clemente druggist, passed away in the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles yesterday following an extended illness. Funeral services will be held from Edward Brothers' mortuary, 1000 Venice boulevard, Los Angeles, Monday at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Amundson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hazel Amundson; two sons, Robert and Donald; two brothers, Albert Amundson of South Dakota and J. A. Amundson of Los Angeles and three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Falberg, Mrs. Alma Nygard and Mrs. Minnie Olson of South Dakota.

At 7:40 P. M. yesterday, police were told that unidentified parties had left an old trunk on the porch at 714 East Second street. Sgt. W. E. B. Sherwood and Officer Roehm found a partially destroyed ticket on the trunk that bore the legend, Lebanon, Mo. Inside was an edition of the Chicago Tribune dated Nov. 20, 1937. They found nothing else, and, baffled, they told the owner of the property to store it or present it to a charitable organization.

Harwood Presides At Gathering Fullerton Seeks Barranca Funds

Postmaster Frank Harwood will leave tomorrow to preside over the quarterly meeting of the Tri-county Postmasters association, at Pine Knot, Big Bear. A dinner meeting at 1 p. m. Sunday will provide the time for business discussion. Boating, fishing, and other activity will occupy the representatives from San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange county post offices. The group plans to return home Sunday evening.

Indiana University football followers are bemoaning the fact that the Hoosiers play only two games at home this fall—Kansas State, Oct. 22, and Iowa, Nov. 12.

According to estimate, 1,000,000 tons of steel are nickel plated annually in the United States.

The Fullerton city council yesterday filed application with the state for $83,000 in flood control funds with which the application with the state for $83,000 in flood control funds with which to pave Brea creek barranca. In the event the state approves the application, it is hoped to have the work completed before the winter rains.

It was pointed out that the city and the federal government have spent over $90,000, in temporary repairs within the past six years. The proposed work would be of a permanent nature.

The council acted following receipt of word that state funds were still available for flood control work.

LOCAL PASTOR RETURNED HERE

The annual conference of the United Brethren church returned the Rev. Everett E. Johnson to the pastorate of the local United Brethren church. He thus begins his fourth year with this congregation. Next Sunday morning he will outline the principal objectives of the conference year.

The next two years will be important ones as the conference approaches the 75th anniversary in 1940, Rev. Johnson revealed. The place of meeting next year will be Oakland, and in 1940, Sacramento.

FDR IN WARNING ON PENSION PROPOSAL

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 26.—(UP)—President Roosevelt expressed the belief today that the plan in California to pay every person over 50 a pension of $30 weekly fell within his August 15 warning against "shortcuts to Utopia of fantastic financial schemes."

Asked to comment on the plan, the originator of which he said he did not know, the chief executive read from his social security speech delivered 10 days ago. In that address he said:

"Word of Warning" "One word of warning. In efforts to provide security for all of the American people let us not allow ourselves to be misled by those who advocate short cuts to Utopia or fantastic financial schemes."

Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that the plan, on its face, was an extremely attractive one and not unlike that which was tried out in Alberta, Canada, but which, however, did not work.

High Tax He expressed sympathy with its

COUNTY BUSINESS CLINIC TO TALK OVER TRANSPORTATION

A full discussion of the problem of transportation in Southern California as it affects business in Orange county will be held at the first annual "Orange County Business Clinic" some time in October.

This was the report of the "clinic" committee yesterday at a meeting of the presidents and secretaries of county chambers of commerce conference. Full details on where the conference will be held and the exact date will be made public at the next meeting of the conference on September 15. If present plans are carried out, the "clinic" will be an all-day parley during which business men from every chamber in the county will be heard and recommendations will be made.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the "clinic" include Frank Rospaw, chairman, Harry Welch, Henrietta E. Stowell, Walter Spicer and John Morgan.

A committee composed of Harry May, W. H. Gallienne and Howard Wood, reporting on the scope and activity of the conference, declared that the conference could inspect and discuss any problem pertinent to Orange county business and could pass motions of recommendation but that such motions would be the opinion of the conference and not binding to any chamber of commerce.

A man can go for 60 to 70 days without food; a dog 117 days; a scorpion 363 days; a spider 17 months; and a snake two years.

objectives but termed it a short cut to the extension of social security. As such, he indicated, it fell within his August 15 warning, adding that one of the essential objections to it was that the tax which would be necessary for its operation would fall far heavier on the poor than on the rich.

The President read from a memorandum submitted by the acting comptroller of the currency regarding the plan in which the comptroller's office reported that there were about 1,300,000 persons in California over the age of 50 which would mean the issuance of warrants yearly up to nearly a billion dollars to finance the proposal.

HARBOR SCOUT EVENT PLANNED

Plans for the Sea Scout rendezvous at Newport Beach camp grounds November 25, 26 and 27 were made at a conference of Sea Scout officials in Newport Beach this week.

Sea Scouts from many distant points like Salt Lake, Seattle and San Francisco as well as Arizona cities will be present in numbers. The Santa Barbara, San Diego, Santa Monica and Ventura Scouts will all travel in their own ships.

Mayor Harry Williamson, Harbor Master Thomas Bouche and Assistant City Engineer John A. Siegel of Newport, are all members of the committee assisting in planning the affair. Dr. Gordon M. Grundy, general chairman of the Newport Scout committee and Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce, are also on the general planning conference board.

F. R. Hill, Sea Scout head of Santa Monica, is contact official between the Southern California regional group and the Newport Harbor committees and has approved plans made to date.

Police Hunt For Owner of Car

Deputy sheriffs ran into a "vicious circle" yesterday when they tried to locate the owner of an automobile that was abandoned at 453 Orchard Place, Bellflower, a report revealed today.

The car, the officers said, was registered to Neal Selby, of the local area. Selby explained he had sold the car to a "Mr. Lawrence" of Costa Mesa. Lawrence could not be located, but the officers learned from someone else that he had sold the car to a Long Beach man by the name of Theodore Hall. The latter could not be contacted, so the deputies still had the machine on their hands this morning.

DELAY IN SOLVING MINORITY CRISIS SEEN AS PEACE THREAT

PRAGUE, Aug. 26.—(UP)—The usually authoritative newspaper Prager Abend Zeitung reported today that Germany had informed European powers she desired peace but that prolonged delay in solution of the Czech minority crisis would prompt Berlin to support the Sudeten Germans "with all of her resources."

Tree Sprayers Use Bluff On Clients

Unidentified orange tree sprayers who yesterday told Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dunn, of 902 South Shelton street, that if they were not permitted to spray the trees on the property, the trees would be destroyed, lost in their bluff.

This was the report of Santa Ana police who were notified of the "threat." The complainants also called the agriculture department to learn if there was such a rule or law about the spraying of trees. There was none. "The men are just bluffing, and probably won't return; they want a job," said the agriculture department. Police today, however, were seeking to learn the identity of the men.

Five Are Lodged In County Jail

Five men were lodged in the Orange county jail yesterday afternoon and last night on charges ranging from violation of the Immigration Act to disturbing the peace. They included Robert Winchel, 25, of Randolph street, Brea, charged with driving while intoxicated in Anaheim yesterday afternoon; and Adam Stover, 43, Willowbrook, who was one of five persons charged with trespassing on Santiago Dam property. The other four, also arrested by Constable George Bartley, paid fines, deputies said, but Stover was imprisoned in default.

The Abend Zeitung's report was published as Europe's diplomatic maneuvering for war or peace over Czechoslovakia appeared to be approaching an important stage. Great Britain this weekend is expected to seek action by both sides to improve prospects of a peaceful settlement of Nazi demands for greater minority rights in Czechoslovakia.

Czech's Seek Peace The newspaper reported that the Czech government approached "several" European powers last week, assuring them it desired peace and sought a peaceful solution of the minority question. But, the Berlin government was reported to have said, if a solution is too long delayed, Germany will support the Sudeten German demands for autonomy "with all of her resources."

Germany, at the same time, expects that the type of support which would be granted to the Sudetens would not be considered by Europe's great powers as an attack on Czechoslovakia, the newspaper said.

TOASTMASTERS DISCUSS WAR

Does the youth of today have more opportunity than preceding generations?

This was the question that was debated at the regular meeting of El Camino Toastmasters at the regular meeting of the organization at Daniger's last night, but the question still was undecided. The club decided the debate was a draw.

Reine Chew, on the affirmative of the question, contended that the educational advantages of the youth of today gave him far more opportunities than his father. He also stressed the need today for more intelligent and educated men and women in the fields of science, arts and industry.

On the other hand, Ted MacBird, who had the negative, asserted that the difficulties were much greater for youth today because of the need for capital and the inability to obtain capital through personal efforts. Bitter competition on all sides, he said, and the labor problems act as a barrier to personal initiative.

Dr. C. J. Ruley, one of the speakers for the evening, sounded a plea for disarmament as a means toward world peace, but pointed to the disturbing factor in Nature that appeared to adhere the rule of the survival of the fittest. "The House of Guggenheim" was the subject of Dr. H. M. Currey. He told the story of the Swiss immigrant who won fame and fortune.

Among the guests were Ralph C. Smedley, founder of the Toastmasters International, of Santa Ana, and Joe Kennedy, a member of the Highland Park Toastmasters Club. General critic for the occasion was Bill Fernandez. He was assisted by George Peterson, Joe Daniger, E. M. Sundquist and Dick MacBird.

"Boys In Blue"

The U. S. Army's khaki-clad doughboys may once more become the boys in blue, at least during the winter, if the new uniform pictured above proves satisfactory. MURRAY'S TO OPEN STORE ON SATURDAY

Formal opening of Murray's Shoe Store, Santa Ana's newest establishment dealing in an extensive line of footwear for men and women, will be held all-day tomorrow and tomorrow night in the remodeled and modernized building at 219 West Fourth street when an initial stock of 10,000 pairs of shoes will go on display.

This was the announcement today of Ammon Peterson, formerly associated with the Murray's Shoe stores in San Bernardino and Anaheim, who will be manager of the Santa Ana store. He will be assisted by George Scott of this city.

The store will be exclusive for "Fifth Avenue" shoes, Peterson declared, "which last year were worn extensively in Southern California. This brand of shoe has 10 points of superiority which have won favor for the product. The special points of merit in the "Fifth Avenue" shoes is that they do not peel or roll at the sole edges. They have wrinkle-proof linings made by a new process, which gives smartness throughout, and are made of better materials than the ordinary run of shoes. They have higher combination arches and more snug fitting heels. Also they have cord binding which prevents gaping, and counters which give more lasting wear than the average counters. There are many other notable features.

In preparation for the opening of the Santa Ana store, Murray's leased the entire storeroom at 219 West Fourth street. The modern treatment of facade has been installed. Show windows have been designed in ideal sizes and shapes so customers may select from the large variety of shoe styles. Show window lighting has been engineered by lighting experts to make the most brilliant effect possible. Eyes of the customers for Murray's Shoe Store will be attracted to the color harmony upon entering the store. Special no glare light fixtures which diffuse light create a softer effect.

ANNUAL BUDGET HEARING OPENS

The county supervisors opened their annual budget hearing today by announcing preliminary reductions aggregating nearly $100,000 from the tentative total of $4,282,611 submitted to them, and the recessing their hearing until Monday, delaying adoption of the budget until then in hope that the $200,000 allocation for flood repairs announced by Governor Merriam would be received in time to be considered in the budget.

Until the board receives the contract from the state covering the allocation and learns whether engineering restrictions would prevent it from being expended by the county in lieu of county funds, the supervisors cannot determine whether it can bring a reduction in the new tax rate.

Chairman Willard Smith explained that engineering restrictions governing expenditure of the money and type of construction may force construction that the county had not planned. In that event, he said, the county would get the benefit of the construction, but not of the tax rate reduction.

Monday is Deadline

Monday, said Smith, is as long as the board can wait on the state contract, and efforts are being made meanwhile to obtain it by that time.

Supervisor N. E. West today reiterated his intention to vote against the new budget, on the ground that it contains increases not justified. He said an increase of five or six cents would be justified for welfare, salary and several other items, which would lift the rate to $7 or $8 cents inside of cities and two cents higher outside. The tentative rate of $1.02 would be decreased to about 96 cents by budget cuts and nounced today, and still lower if the $200,000 in state money is available.

This would bring West and the rest of the board fairly close together, it was pointed out.

West said today that his expected vote against the budget did not imply criticism of his colleagues, and that the public may have an erroneous idea that disagreements on the board are not always friendly.

Announce Cuts

Supervisor John Mitchell today announced to Chairman Smith a cut of $50,000 in the agricultural budget, $40,000 from the fire protection budget, and $20,000 from the welfare budget. Supervisor Harry Riley announced a cut of between $55,000 and $60,000 in the hospital budget.

Delegations of taxpayers, including representatives of the county farm bureau and the Property Owners association appeared before the board today to oppose budget increases. Formal statements were filed by the two organizations mentioned. The farm bureau cited unfavorable economic conditions of the farmers, and expressed willingness to accept a reduction in the agricultural budget if other departments were similarly pared. The statement was filed through the bureau's tax committee.

DATA FURNISHED TO VOTERS BY WOMEN

In the interests of good government and a well-informed citizenry in Santa Ana and Orange county, officials of the Orange County League of Women Voters today repeated an appeal for requests to obtain a copy of "Duties of Elective County Officers."

The latter is the title of a pamphlet that was printed yesterday to acquaint the general public with "what goes on in the various departments of county government." Its 11 pages are full of facts that describe the activities of the various county officers from the superior court bench to the office of supervisor.

"Anyone may obtain a copy of the book by telephoning me," said Mrs. Felton B. Browning, of Tustin, president of the league.

New Association
Elects Officers

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 26.—With representatives of the majority of the 65 families of New Westminster present at a mass meeting called for Wednesday evening at Westminster school, the New Westminster Improvement association was organized and officers elected.

P. D. Phillips was named president, Fred Gross, secretary, and Mrs. Grossman treasurer for the new organization, which seeks the carrying out of building restrictions as carried in deeds of the New Westminster tracts, the prevention of fire hazards and improvement of water rights. Financial backing for the carrying out of the issues has been arranged.

NAZIS AND LITTLE ENTENTE
SPAR FOR LITTLE HUNGARY

LONDON, Aug. 26.—(UP)—Nazi Germany and the Little Entente nations are starting a tug-of-war over the kingless kingdom of Hungary to help decide the fate of central Europe.

The contest began in earnest this week with Hungary maneuvering to hold a middle ground from which she can extort concessions from both sides, which dangle political, economic and military promises or threats as bait.

Great Britain, France and Italy are keeping one foot on the side lines but their interests are involved and their weight will be felt directly or indirectly in the struggle.

The issue arising from Hungary's strategic position in Central Europe is well defined. Germany's rising economic and military power along the Danube river, her desire to dominate the middle European states and the consequent threat of another world war has sent the small powers scurrying to the sidelines in an effort to remain neutral or to vantage points from which they can choose the best prospect in event they are forced to line up on one side.

Czechoslovakia, Roumania and Yugoslavia—the Little Entente nations—have chosen to attempt to block expansion of Nazi influence eastward. Their immediate objective is to wear Hungary away from the German orbit.

Actually, the struggle centering around Hungary is part of a general realignment by small nations of Europe which are seeking desperately for a way to keep out of the next war or, if that can't be done, to occupy a vantage point when the showdown comes.

Working toward the objective, Belgium and Switzerland have formally declared their neutral status; the Scandinavian countries have tightened their common bonds; the Balkan entente has made a friendly gesture to a former foe by recognizing Bulgaria's right to re-arm; and now the Little Entente is courting Hungary.

The objectives of both the Little Entente—originally sponsored by France to draw a ring around Hungary after the World War—and of Germany were sharply emphasized this week. The entente powers, meeting at Bled, recognized Hungary's right to re-arm in exchange for her pledge not to resort to war to settle mutual problems—a pledge regarded as comparable in effectiveness to the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty pledges.

The truth was that Hungary already was re-arming in defiance of the treaty of Trianon and the Little Entente merely made it official with a rubber stamp approval. In addition, the three powers agreed to tighten their own economic collaboration and to seek to draw Hungary closer to them economically. Importance of that action centers on the Danube river, which supplies the life blood of central European economy and which Germany is now attempting to dominate.

MAN SITS ON RATTLER

WADDELL, Cal. (UP)—When Seymour Rodgers, wishing to rest after an hour's work of woodchopping, sat down on a rattlesnake, he had the good fortune to sit down on its head instead of its tail. As a consequence, the snake was able to rattle Rodgers a warning to get off, which he promptly did, before it could get its imprisoned head into action.

Film Scenes For New Rail Picture

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—The appearance of a conductor of a Santa Fe train, in blue uniform and gold buttons, accompanied by a large group of workmen and two brakemen in the business district of Orange yesterday noon, caused a flurry among residents as the crew sought a place to lunch.

Inquiry revealed that motion pictures were being made along the Santa Fe tracks between Orange and Anaheim and while the contractor and brakemen represented real life, the rest of the group were shortly to be presented in reel life.

The picture is being made by M-G-M and stars Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. It will be called "When We Were Sweethearts." Six cars were included in the special train used by the motion picture company.

MRS. SLATER HOSTESS

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Anna Slater was hostess to members of a group of Women's Fellowship members yesterday afternoon at her North Tustin street ranch home. The group, which is a unit of the Presbyterian woman's society, spent the afternoon sewing on quilts, after which Mrs. Slater served refreshments. Mrs. Rose Carlson is leader of the group.

Present were Mesdames Emma Honadel, Harvey Riggie, Alice Walton, Harry Baines, M. L. Pearson, Anna Slater, Rose Carlson and Misses Nita Walton and Estella Campbell.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Don Baldwin, of Los Angeles, spent several days this week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, East Palmyra avenue. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Tyrrell, 404 North Orange street, have as house guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Burch, of Everett, Wash., who are on their way home after a tour of 13 states. The visitors left their home on June 10 and went as far east as Minneapolis, Minn. They are pioneer residents of the state of Washington. Mrs. Burch and Dr. Tyrrell are sister and brother.

Bruce Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Knight, who has undergone a number of eye operations, is in St. Joseph hospital, where he will undergo another, and what is believed will be the last operation necessary to restore his eyesight. The youth graduated from the Orange Union high school last June and was made a life member of the honor society. His entire high school work was done without sight.

Miss Joanne Softley, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Softley, North Grand street, will enter the Bishop Johnson school of nursing Monday at Los Angeles. Miss Softley, whose father is vicar of Trinity Episcopal church, graduated from Fullerton Junior college in June 1938. She is a talented dancer.

TALBERT

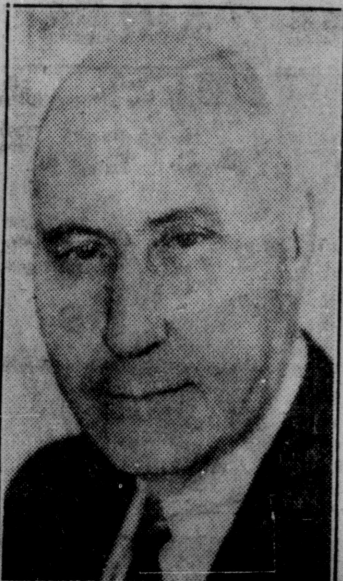

TALBERT, Aug. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles have returned from Kingman, Ariz., where they took their daughter-in-law and her small daughter, who had been their houseguests for some weeks. J. Gullett, of Sawtelle, a friend of Joseph Betschart, is spending a few days as a guest in the Betschart home.

Miss Lillian and Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Morrow and sons, Billy and Clint; Mrs. M. Christian and the honored guest, Clinton Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robinson and daughters, Bonnie Marie and Patsy Lea, have returned to El Paso, after a visit here with relatives. As a farewell courtesy, they were the honored guests at a picnic at Hillcrest park, in Fullerton. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Zink and children, Leland, Betty, Loraine and Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Durward Robinson, of Escondido; G. W. Robinson, E. H. CHAPTER PLANS PROGRAM SOON

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—Plans for future meetings of Scepter chapter, O. E. S., were made last night at the Masonic hall. Out of town guests, past matrons and past patrons were escorted to the east during the meeting.

It was announced that the past matrons and past patrons will be honored in the September 22 meeting of the chapter. September 8 will be courtesy night. It was announced that Scepter chapter will join with other chapters in this district for a reception for the deputy president of district 60, Mrs. Jennie Shippe, of Santa Ana. The affair will be held at the Santa Ana Masonic temple September 12.

Mrs. Pauline Towle was thanked for her gifts of corsages for the officers last night and the baskets of flowers used in decoration of the chapter room.

Following lodge, the group adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Dora Waechter, Associate Matron. Iva Reeves Lee presided with Worthy Patron Dan Gruwell.

HOLD LA HABRA PARTY

LA HABRA, Aug. 26.—Several girls enjoyed a slumber party Wednesday evening as guests of Miss Beverly Proud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Proud, of West Greenwood avenue. Chinese checkers were played during the evening. A midnight supper was served by Mrs. Proud.

Guests were Mary Jane Dohrmann, Betty Lou Whitlock, Dotty Dohrmann and Marilyn Carlson.

Society To Hold Luncheon Sept. 22

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—Setting the date of the annual dues paying luncheon for September 22, members of the executive board of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church launched plans for the work of the coming year at a special meeting in the church parlors yesterday.

Mrs. Clara Butler, superintendent of Epworth hall, a home for young business women in San Diego, will be the speaker at the luncheon. Other details for the event are to be announced later. Miss Lelah Fernald, Mrs. W. B. Nuckols and Mrs. J. W. Bomboy were appointed members of the membership and finance committee. Mrs. R. M. Buckles presided.

Rotarians Told Of Island Prison

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—Ernest Thacker, former Santa Ana Junior college graduate, recently returned from the Isle of Pines near Cuba, was speaker at the Orange Rotary club yesterday.

Thacker was winner of a scholarship at Yale university while attending junior college. He is the son of the late Rev. Joseph Thacker, a missionary teacher in the Isle of Pines. W. H. Lowry was program chairman and Frank Collins presided.

Thacker told in detail of the Cuban prison built on the Isle of Pines. The prison, he said, will hold 4000 prisoners and has a population of 2000 at present. The buildings are of the most modern type and are of beautiful marble.

Few prisoners try to escape, he said, as they cannot leave the island and must stay in the jungles. The greater number of the inmates, he stated, are political prisoners.

CLUB ENTERTAINED

ORANGE, Aug. 26.—Members of a card club met Wednesday evening for a picnic at Irvine park. Guests at the club were children of the members.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Krueger and sons, Vincent and Nelson, and daughter, Darlene; Mr. and Mrs. Noble White and daughter.

CYCLE RIDERS GIVEN WARNING

Pointing to the teeth in the Santa Ana city ordinance that prohibits the riding of bicycles or motorcycles on sidewalks, Police Chief Floyd Howard today reiterated his plea to men, women and children cyclists to obey the law in this respect.

"Already two boys have been certified to juvenile court for the infractions of this law," Chief Howard said, "and why should any youth take this chance of trouble with law enforcement groups?"

"I want you to see this in the form of an appeal to every bicycle owner, and to point out that the ordinance was enacted for the benefit of the cyclist as well as the pedestrian. Of course, there always is unfortunately that element of citizens who just naturally do not care about society in general.

"For this type of person, young or old, the teeth in the ordinance are strong. The law provides that on conviction, the defendant is

Beet Knife Threatens To Cut Path To Jail

"You two go home, forget about your weapons and behave yourselves or you'll both be in jail."

This was the advice offered late yesterday by Desk Sergeant J. F. McWilliams while he was looking at a vicious-looking beetle knife.

He directed his remarks to Trinidad Ruiz, 615 Stafford street, and to Ruiz' uncle, Joseph Ruiz, of the same address. The former came to police headquarters first with the beetle knife. He handed it to Sgt. McWilliams and declared that his uncle, Joe, had threatened him with the weapon. Shortly after, the uncle appeared and asserted Trinidad had threatened him with an ax and he merely had grabbed up the knife for protection.

The knife now is in the property room at the police station.

The horsepower unit of energy was established by James Watt in 1775.

Hable to a fine of not more than $100 and a 30-day jail sentence."

GEO. F. HOLDEN

DISTRICT ATTORNEY

of Orange County

Supervisor 5th District

According to the statements you have made on your campaign cards a stranger would take you to be a wizard, but the average citizen knows your record too well to be fooled by your statements.

If you are so powerful — why can't you finish the Tustin Storm Drain? Why haven't you started the Laguna Canyon Storm Protection, which is so badly needed? Why haven't you finished South Main Street? You are a good starter, but a poor finisher.

How can you explain how you have saved the taxpayers $250,000 on the road tax? You claim you have reduced it from 40 cents to 2 cents, when the truth of the matter is that the tax, the year before you went into office, was only 12 cents. Where is the saving of $250,000?

Also explain where you saved $25,000 in the Purchasing Department. Was part of it on the boat you are having built for Newport Harbor without getting bids?

How much have you saved on the typewriters—after your private attorney carried the case to the Appellate Court to be thrown back in your face?

How much of the Gasoline Tax have you given the cities of your District? In 1936 they received $5068, distributed as follows: Laguna Beach, $1526; Newport Beach, $2462; San Clemente, $652; Tustin, $428. In 1937 and 1938 they received nothing—notwithstanding they pay 75 per cent of this tax. You have not only taken this from them, but you—in 1937, added to the County General Fund $98,000 for County roads, of which the tax payers of the cities will have to pay nearly one-half. You surely have been looking out for the dear tax payers of the cities.

How well have you looked after the poor laboring man's interest by allowing him $4.00 per day with his pick and shovel, and then boosting the attorneys to $100 each per day, while in Court, and $50 per day for office work for our Flood Control District. You surely favor the laboring man.

You started in to clean the Old Political Ring out of the Court House. How well have you succeeded? Three of them are going back without opposition and most of the others will get in at the Primary with the exception of yourself and one other Supervisor, who is going to be defeated on account of accepting some of your wild theories. You have assisted in digging his political grave.

You speak about "harmony"—don't you realize by now that you might get some of the protection and other work so badly needed in your District if you had been more harmonious in working with the other officials for the good of Orange County?

Mr. West, what about those terrible dark huddles you fought so hard against when you first went into office and refused to even look into the door of the Huddle Room? Now, you are one of the first to enter when you have something to keep from the dear public. Did you get converted when you entered the Huddle Room to explain how you wrecked the new Ford car on a trip to San Francisco—a trip which could have been made on the train for one-half the expense, let alone the total cost of a new Ford car?

Why have you waited three and a half years before grading and repairing the roads in your District when you have each year levied a road tax to do this work? Did you let this work go until just before election so as to buy votes by giving people work?

Voters just remember the old saying, "A barking dog never bites" and cast your votes for one who will work for the interest of Orange County and this District and not for his personal political interest and aggrandizement.

Mr. West, these and other questions are what I wanted to ask you at your Costa Mesa meeting, Friday, August 19th, but was refused the privilege by your Chairman, Mr. TeWinkle. Now I am giving you the opportunity to answer the same in any manner you see fit. Any one wishing to discuss with me regarding these statements will find me home evenings at 1903 Oak Street, South Santa Ana.

(Signed:) W. OSCAR WILSON
A Voter and Tax Payer of the 5th Supervisorial District.

NO PRESIDENT OF THE U.S. EVER REGAINED THAT OFFICE AFTER LOSING IT. RIGHT OR WRONG?

ANSWER: Wrong. Grover Cleveland was the 22nd and 24th President of the United States, serving both before and after the term of Benjamin Harrison, by whom he was defeated in 1888.

PEDESTRIAN CARRYING WHITE CANE GIVEN RIGHT OF WAY

Referring to a question in a question and answer column this week in a magazine of nation-wide circulation, Municipal Judge John G. Mitchell today pointed out that Los Angeles is not the only city in Southern California that gives absolute right-of-way to a man or woman with a white cane.

"As a matter of fact, Santa Ana has such an ordinance that provides a stiff penalty for persons found guilty of having violated it," Judge Mitchell pointed out.

The question in the magazine, was, in part: "Which has the right-of-way on Los Angeles streets, a pedestrian carrying a white cane, or the driver of an automobile?"

The definite answer is implied clearly by the title of Santa Ana's ordinance No. 993, which says: "An ordinance prohibiting the use of white canes, except by pedestrians wholly or partially blind, and providing protection against high-way accidents to such persons, and providing penalties for the violation hereof."

The law further states: "It shall be unlawful for any person, except persons wholly or partially blind, to carry on the public streets of this city, any canes or walking sticks which are white in color, or white with red end or bottom."

"Any driver of a vehicle, or pedestrian who is not wholly or partially blind who approaches or comes in contact with a blind person, shall come immediately to a full stop and take such precautions before proceeding as may be necessary to avoid injury to the person carrying a white cane."

The penalty for violation is a fine of $500 or six months in the county jail, or both.

Whether or not Miss Margaret Allen, 37, "the woman with a score of aliases and whose address might be any town or city in the United States," is in Santa Ana or vicinity, local police and sheriff's officers nevertheless today were keeping an eye open for her possible appearance.

This attitude is the result of the receipt by Police Chief Floyd Howard late yesterday of a special circular from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which asked aid in attempts to recapture Miss Allen. The woman pleaded guilty in 1936 to a charge of conspiring to violate the national bank robbery act. The plea was entered in Detroit, Mich., and she was sentenced to serve two years in the federal penitentiary and was fined $10,000.

After having been transferred to the city workhouse in Cincinnati, O., Miss Allen escaped May 29, 1938, "and now may be in your community."

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26.—Settin Around (Paramount): Executives of this studio tell me George Raft refused the role in St. Louis Blues, not because he disliked the part, but because he wanted more money for playing it. And that the studio dropped him from its contract list rather than meet his salary demands. Paramount, they say, is going on a business basis. Its stars are either going to work for the salaries agreed upon in their contracts—or else.

If their version of the Raft case is correct, I think they were fully justified in dropping him. It is high time our producers start fighting back when stars attempt to hijack salary increases. No sooner does a player appear in a box-office hit than he takes full credit for the picture's success, decides that he has become indispensable, disregards his contract agreements and rushes to the front office to threaten a strike unless he gets more money. Gradually, star salaries have been forced to such a high that the studios are staggering under the load. And, as individuals, nine-tenths of the high-paid stars in Hollywood couldn't draw flies to the box-office.

Few stars have the business sense to realize it, but they cut their own throats by their exorbitant demands. Once an actor's salary has been built to the limit, his every picture must be a smash hit. If it isn't, he is through. Producers decline to take a chance—and you can't blame them when you realize that Paramount's $8,000,000 profit in 1937, was less than bank interest on its investment.

On the "Arkansas Traveler" set, Irvin S. Cobb has been lacerating the pride of Bob Burns by telling stories which always ridicule the intelligence of Arkansas. Bob is not the man to take such punishment lying down, but he's never studied entomology and, consequently, knows nothing about the habits of Kentuckians—or any other breed of insects. But today he managed a retort that set Cobb back on his heels. "I don't know much about Kentucky," Bob said dryly, "because back in Van Buren, every time any of us boys said, 'Kentucky' my aunt Fibby used to wash our mouths out with soap. Only person I ever knew who had anything to do with that state was my Uncle Fudd . . . he's ray drinkin' uncle."

Watched George Cukor direct Claudette Colbert and Helen Westley in a scene for "Zaza." Cukor is deliberation itself and he keeps on shooting, take after take, until every little nuance and detail matches his conception of what the scene should be. This morning's shot was elusive. After working on it for more than an hour, Cukor said, considerably, "Let's take a little rest, Claudette, you look tired." Claudette sighed, "No," said she, "I'm merely growing old. I'm afraid I'll have to cart me off this set in a wheelchair when we finish this scene."

Bob Hope is the most irrepressible clown that ever stepped before a movie camera. A booted like is just a laugh to him and a between-scene pause is merely another chance for a practical joke. Today, on the "Thanks for the Memory" set, while his director explained in minute detail how a scene should be played, he whistled and did intricate dance steps. And the director burned. "You're paying no more attention," he shouted. "Let's see you get out there and do a rehearsal." Bob grinned. "Sure," he said cheerfully—and did the scene perfectly—accompanying his portrayal with an extemporaneous tap dance. He's good—but I fear for the sanity of the poor director.

On the "St. Louis Blues" set was a little stock girl whose name has been changed recently from "Punkins" Parkers to Mary Parker. She wore a diaphanous gown which veiled, but in no way concealed, one of the most beautiful figures in Hollywood. And I had to laugh at the seriousness with which she battled for correct lighting of her face. Lloyd Nolan laughed with

LABOR DENIES ENDORSING CANDIDATES

SLATE IS NOT COUNTY CHOICE

Denying all responsibility for a slate of national, state and county candidates that has been in distribution in the local area since Monday, officials of the Orange County Central Labor Council today made it clear that the body had not endorsed any particular county candidates.

"The council, or central labor union as it is known," declared Jack A. Trendle, secretary of the organization, "has endorsed no slate of county candidates, and took formal action only on state candidates who had been picked by the state group."

At the same time, R. C. (Cal) Ewing, of Anaheim, secretary of the A. F. of L. political committee, said that the committee had authorized the distribution of a sample ballot of national, state and county candidates "merely as the friends of labor and because an attempt has been made to scandalize some of them."

"Originally," Ewing explained, "even the committee had not intended to name any of the county candidates as 'friends of labor,' but in view of pamphleteering this week, we merely took the action to counteract any possible feeling against those who had been most hotly attacked. We hope that none of the candidates feel we are favoring those we named. Anyway, the individual members of the union and the council will individually support the candidate they chose, and the membership as a whole has not been asked to support any particular slate."

CAMERAS TRAP DRIVERS

LONDON (UP)—Cameras are being used by police forces in Northern England to gather evidence against motorists who break the law. Mobile squads of Chatterfield police have had cameras fitted into the wind-screen so that photographs may be taken without stopping the cars.

"Mary," he grinned. "With that gown and those legs—I doubt very much that any man in the audience will even notice you have a face."

With J. Carroll Naish, I was looking at an old ledger, which is being used as a prop on the "Illegal Traffic" set. One of the items entered was "Patty Cash . . . $2,094.12." "Bet this belonged to a studio," Carroll laughed. "No other business concern would call that much money 'petty.' We checked up and he was right—but the studio has been defunct for years."

Western States Assemble for 1939

Covering nearly half a city block in area, 132 feet by 136 feet, the world's largest relief map may be seen at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island, according to an announcement by The Industrial West, Inc., sponsoring organization, and the California State Commission. With an anticipated total cost of $200,000 and the employment of 200 people, the map will graphically display natural resources and industrial development of the West.

"Humane Bits"

By FLORENCE A. ROBINSON

Hail to Commander Frank Hawks, one of our country's ace birdmen, who took flight into the great Beyond just at twilight on Monday night.

May he find new skyways to explore in the Life Eternal, as he did here on earth!

Commander Hawks had gone a long way bith in miles, speed and endeavor since he barnstormed in Santa Ana way back to 1920. In his early twenties and filled with enthusiasm he appeared one day in the editorial rooms of The Register, and asked for a reporter to fly with him and give him a story in the paper.

Herman Reuter was on the city desk then, and whether it was because he thought I was up in the clouds anyway (I had just become engaged), or whether the rest of the staff had cold feet, I never did find out. Anyway I was chosen to fly with him and give him a story in the paper.

The take-off was near Laguna and the plane the then prevalent crate variety, and I remember that I spent most of the flight shouting at Mr. Hawks above the roar of the motor to go faster. With no telephone poles or trees to gauge our speed I thought we were merely crawling. With a big grin Mr. Hawks promptly shouted back that we were accomplishing 125 miles an hour.

Since then Commander Hawks has upheld or broken speed records of every kind on the airways and though I'm sad to write FINIS on his page in my scrap book, I'm proud to have known him when he was just a grinning young man, unknown asking an equally grinning young reporter to give him a story. Happy landing, Frank Hawks.

It has been estimated that 25 miles underground the earth's temperature is 2200 degrees Fahrenheit—more than enough to melt metals or rock.

Supper Enjoyed By Church Group

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 26.—A pot luck picnic supper was enjoyed by members of the Intermediate department of the First Methodist church in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith Tuesday evening with their son, Bill, host of the group.

Mrs. George Crane, department superintendent, planned the menu and games were in charge of Avery Howell. Present were Margaret Lamb, Thelma Swenson, Betty Smith, Betty Jean Sullivan, Marjorie Clark, Betty Ater, Everil Sprinkle, Leland Harper, Donald Jesse, Wallace Schuttger, Robert Kittrell, Donovan Schneider, Bill Smith, Kenneth Hall, Lloyd Crane, Avery Howell, Bruce Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith.

FIRST MEETING OF P.-T. A. SET

Announcement of the first regular P.-T. A. meeting for the Spurgeon school was set for Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the Spurgeon school auditorium, at the all-day Executive board session held this week at the summer cottage of Mrs. Edwin Baird in Laguna Beach.

A pot-luck luncheon featured the day's activity. The president Mrs. L. D. Spencer presided over the business session. Information regarding the law prohibiting minor children from purchasing liquor was read and discussed.

The Executive board members will be the hosts at the first meeting of the fall term. A parliamentary skit will be featured on the entertainment program.

In attendance at the Executive board meeting were: Mrs. L. D. Spencer, Mrs. B. H. Hupp, Mrs. T. H. Huffman, Mrs. Guy T. Mattics, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Alfred Knight, Mrs. Charles Fondren, Mrs. Robert Birkhead, Mrs. Bert Hagan, Mrs. Fred Ray, Mrs. Edwin Baird, Mrs. E. M. Newburn, Mrs. Frank Biglow, Mrs. Monroe Walcher and Mrs. George Holmes.

Members of the Executive board who were unable to be present were: Mrs. Loren Blakely, Mrs. A. Leithold, Mrs. E. J. McCauley, Mrs. J. W. Logan, Mrs. W. McConnell, Mrs. Harley Neill, Mrs. James Sims and Mr. Walter Sims.

AUTO'S RENTAL $1,200 CLEVELAND (UP)—How to collect the accumulated rental, about $1,200, on a car they hired out a year ago is the problem of officials of a drive-it-yourself company here. The car, never returned, was found recently, and so was the man who rented it—in the Indiana state penitentiary.

Church Workers Attend Meeting In Home Of District Officer

In the interest of Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Methodist Episcopal church, Mrs. Horton M. Palmer, corresponding secretary of San Diego-Phoenix district, received a group of branch, conference and district corresponding secretaries Wednesday in her home, 125 South Sycamore street.

Following opening devotionals led by Mrs. Wray Andrew, conference secretary, the day was given over largely to the consideration of the work of the missionary year now nearing its close. In addition, plans were outlined for the new year, which will be the last of a three-year endeavor leading up to the celebration of the 70th anniversary of the organization of this society.

The anniversary meeting will be held in October, 1939, in Pasadena. A pleasant feature of Wednesday's meeting was luncheon served at a table centered with tuberous begonias from the garden of the Robert Lowry home at Midway City. Mrs. Lowry is a daughter of the Palmers.

Mrs. Palmer's guests were Mrs. Jerome Seymour, Pasadena; Mrs. Wray Andrew and Mrs. Cora M. Cassil, Long Beach; Mrs. Roy Heath, Redondo Beach; Mrs. W. A. McCullough, Van Nuys; Mrs. C. L. Kinney, Hollywood; Mrs. George Merritt, Alhambra; Mrs. J. C. Evans, Monrovia.

Merry Program Applied To Party Welcoming Miss Betty Stowe

Another of the gay parties which have expressed welcome to Miss Betty Stowe upon her return after three years in the east, was the pleasant affair at which Miss Mary Jane Norwood entertained yesterday.

Guests invited to the Norwood home at 129 Roe Drive, spent the morning hours playing tennis, with the result that all were more than ready to enjoy the tempting luncheon menu planned by her mother, Mrs. Edward E. Norwood, and served by the young hostess with the assistance of her sister, Miss Dorothy Norwood. The table around which guests found places, was charmingly centered with pompon dahlias in a pale green bowl.

Following the luncheon hour, the young people repaired to the Balboa Island home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Hays for an afternoon of swimming and beach sports. In the group with the hostess and honoree, Miss Norwood and Miss Stowe, were the Misses Jayne Nalle, Dorothy Norwood, Mary Smith, Ruth Liggett and Elizabeth Hays.

During Miss Stowe's extended absence in the east, she was at Johns-On-the-Hudson with her father, Dr. Stowe, a professor of dental surgery at Columbia university.

Altrusans Make Plans For Winter Study Programs

Outlining some of the plans for Altrusa programs during the coming year, the club president, Miss Irene McPaul, last night called upon different chairmen of her appointment, for their suggestions for study and project affairs. The occasion was another of the more-or-less informal summer meetings of Altrusa club, with Miss McPaul and Mrs. Emmett Elliott as hostesses in the home of the latter, 821 Riverine avenue.

It was such a perfect evening that the group spent the greater part of it out in the garden, returning indoors only for the business discussion. At this time, Mrs. Blanche Brown outlined some of her ideas regarding the club's study of vocational training, and Mrs. Laura Warren distributed questionnaires sent by Miss Mary Howard, an absent member.

A new office was created with the naming of Mrs. Charles W. Hyde Jr. to the post of social chairman. Mrs. Warren was asked to take over secretarial duties for the next few weeks, during the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Mabel Faulkner. Mrs. Faulkner, Orange librarian, is leaving within a few days for a several weeks' trip to Denver and other Colorado points.

When the hostesses served a simple refreshment course at the close of the evening, they had assistance from Mrs. Hyde. Others present were Mrs. Faulkner, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Thomas Prather, Dr. Beatrice Schnee, Mrs. Elma Just, the Misses Marjorie Hawthorne, Mary Andrews, Dewey Neumeier and Frances Liles.

At their next meeting on September 8, club members will visit the famous bird sanctuary in Modjeska Canyon and dine later at Modjeska Inn. They plan a departure well before 5 p. m. and will make reservations through Miss Helen Gallagher, 2622.

B. P. W. Group Is Called To Park Party

Mindful of the popularity of the picnic idea for summer meetings of Business and Professional Women's club, members of the August committee will hold one more gala park party to round out the season before the club approaches its more serious winter program.

This event is scheduled for next Monday night in Santiago park. Miss Leha Thomas has been aiding the committee, the Misses Martha Whitson, Damaris Beeman and Mary Thompson, in plans, and the dinner menu has been arranged so that clubwomen will need take only their table service. All are asked to be at the park as early as possible to take part in the games program. Reservations must be made by Saturday evening with Miss Helen Gallagher at the Work Basket, 2622.

Bride-Elect Inspires Shower Tonight In Pasadena

Miss Mary Lou McFarland, fiancée of Stewart Meece will be honored tonight at a bridal shower to be given in the Pasadena home of Miss Marjorie Bettanier, who will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding October 1.

Santa Anans invited to share tonight's event include the honoree and her mother and sister, Mrs. O. Scott McFarland and Miss Alice Clare McFarland; Mrs. J. C. Sexton, Miss Louise Sexton and Mrs. Chris Ema.

The bride-elect and Miss Sexton will remain as overnight guests in the Bettanier home, returning home tomorrow in time for the wedding of Miss Betty Hawk and Duncan Harnois at 4:30 o'clock in First Presbyterian church.

Birthday Celebration Highlights Picnic

Martha Washington club members and guests who attended a picnic dinner Wednesday evening in Irvine park, took part in a surprise celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Hattie Peters. Served with the inviting dinner menu was a birthday cake decorated in pink.

Sharing the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jernigan and their grandsons, Monty McFadden; Mrs. Bea McDonald, Mrs. Hattie Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Golden and daughter and son, Gloria and Bruce; Mrs. Ruth Zabel and children, Jean and Justine; Mr. and Mrs. J. Zimmerman, Mrs. Sarah House and her sister, Mrs. Mary Cox of Florence, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hunter and daughter, Mrs. Myrtle McAlister, Okla.; Mrs. Pauline Decker and Mr. and Mrs. John G. Baker.

Such an enjoyable time was held, that the group made plans for a similar picnic in two weeks' time.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. William Hazen, McFadden street, made a trip to Big Bear yesterday.

Little Miss Carolyn Baldwin, nine months' old daughter of Mrs. W. H. Baldwin, 331 South Flower street, is in St. Joseph hospital undergoing treatment for a serious illness.

Family Dinner Given To Precede Dr. Worley's Sailing

One of the informal affairs planned to honor Dr. H. W. Worley preceding his departure next Tuesday for the Orient, was a family dinner recently at Orange City park.

In the group were Dr. and Mrs. Worley and their children, Clarence and James; Mrs. Worley's brother-in-law and sister, the Rev. and Mrs. O. Scott McFarland and son and daughter, Jack and the Misses Mary Lou and Alice Clare McFarland, with Miss Mary Lou's fiancée, Stewart Meece of Long Beach; Mrs. Emma Prettyman, Miss Mary Kintigh and Mrs. George Wiltale.

Dr. Worley will sail Tuesday on the Thurland Castle from Wilmington for Foochow, China, where he will resume his work in the mission field after two years' absence. Following two years of graduate work at Yale, he came to Santa Ana this summer, accompanied by his family.

Worley, Clarence and James will reside at Balboa this winter. They plan to join their husband and father in China as soon as it is advisable.

Visiting Couple Feted At Dinner Party In Freeman Home

Among the intimate little affairs inspired by the visit in this city of Dr. and Mrs. William Lasby of Minneapolis, Minn., was a dinner party last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Freeman, 2527 Santiago avenue.

Places for 12 diners were marked at the table, at either end of which were bouquets of orange blossoms in special tribute to the visitors. Golden glow and zinnias formed a centerpiece.

An after-dinner program offered a bridge and Chinese checkers diversion. Mrs. A. J. Lasby and Dr. Lasby won prizes for their high scores in the first game; while Mrs. A. W. May and Edwin Lasby won awards in the other contest.

Present with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman were Dr. and Mrs. Lasby, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lasby, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lasby, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. May and Mr. and Mrs. John Tessmann.

Summer Visitor Honors Her Hostesses With Pretty Luncheons

Soon to conclude a summer visit in the Southland, Miss Betty La Blant of Minneapolis, Minn., is ending her gay Santa Ana experiences with two pretty gestures of appreciation to her hostesses, Mrs. Helen Cappelen and her daughter, Miss Nancy Cappelen, 624 South Broadway. The first of these parties was a luncheon yesterday at Danigers, planned especially for Miss Nancy Cappelen.

Miss La Blant had reserved a table which was quite lovely with its soft pastel linens accented with the delicacy of the blue asters forming the flower centerpiece. Covers were laid for the hostess and her guest of honor, and for the Misses Bettie Lacy, Patricia Emison, Marjorie Wall, Barbara Tucker, Ellen Jane Jordan of Garden Grove, and Carolyn Wells.

A theater party at the Broadway was sequel to the luncheon hour. Today brought the second of the duo of luncheons at Danigers, when Mrs. Cappelen was special guest of honor. For today's party, Miss LaBlant included also Miss Nancy Cappelen. Mrs. Mason Yould and Mrs. W. Ray Heath.

Tuesday has been announced as the date of this charming eastern girl's departure for her home. She has made a world of friends here not only among the young people, but among Mrs. Cappelen's friends as well. They will be interested in her school plans, for as a summer graduate from Minneapolis High schools, she will enter University of Minnesota this fall as a freshman. She expects to make economics her major.

Party In Munro Home Is Compliment To Frances Was

Since they became established in their charming new home at 1812 North Flower street, Mrs. George Munro and her daughters, the Misses Jean and Margaret Munro have received a number of guests, with the latest party occurring last night in honor of Miss Frances Was.

The Misses Munro invited a group of close friends to fete Miss Was, whose marriage to Jack Lindsey will take place in September.

Red and white dahlias were arranged in the living room, while orchid pompons added charm to the buffet in the dining room. Evigdening her interest in the occasion, Mrs. C. P. Boyer had sent in some of the lovely flowers.

Bridge play brought first prize to Miss Charlotte Mock. Crystal gifts in the Fernwood pattern were presented to Miss Was, who received a pretty-wrapped box in which the shower articles were arranged.

The sister hostesses and their mother served refreshments at the close of bridge play, making use of the small tables which had been set up in the living room earlier in the evening.

Invited to share the affair with the Misses Munro and Mrs. Munro were Miss Was and her mother, Mrs. Frank Was and the Misses Louise Sexton, Mary Elizabeth Heaney, Mary Lou McFarland, Patty Rapp, Ione Hooven, Valerie Demetriou, Grace Heaney, Charlotte Mock, Mary Henderson and Mrs. Chris Ema.

Royal Neighbors

Thirty members and guests of Golden State camp R. N. A. assembled in Orange City park Wednesday evening for a covered-dish dinner, followed by a swim in the plunge. A ball game which was in progress proved of special interest.

Plans were made for a swimming party to be held September 1 at 7:30 p. m. in Orange park plunge. Later in the evening, the group will go to the home of Mrs. R. C. Boyd, 944 West Myrtle street, for a wieners bake.

Mrs. Tuthill Receives Party Guests In Laguna Home

Adding to the enjoyment of a late summer vacation stay of the R. G. Tuthills in their pretty home at Laguna Beach are parties which Mrs. Tuthill has planned, with yesterday bringing the first of a duo of affairs.

Sixteen guests were received for luncheon and bridge in the attractive home, 603 Coast Boulevard, South. Zinnias in vivid shades were decorations.

Assisting Mrs. Tuthill in serving luncheon and in carrying out other hospitable plans were her daughters, the Misses Martha and Roberta Tuthill.

Mrs. F. F. Mead won first prize in contract. The attractive table awards went to Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Dr. Mary Wright and Mrs. A. J. Lasby.

Mrs. Tuthill will receive at a similar affair on Monday.

Fraternity Council Plans Fall Dance

Holding a special meeting last night in Phi Sigma rooms in the Arcade, members of Inter Fraternity-Sorority council made plans for a dance to be given early in the fall. An October date has been set tentatively.

Murray Patton conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Don Park, who is recuperating from an operation which he is in the Phi Sigma rooms.

Mrs. L. R. Musick Entertains At Bridge

Bridge play in the home of Mrs. L. R. Musick, 911 West Camille street, was shared by party guests Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. F. A. Martin winning prize for high score, and Mrs. H. E. Beuter receiving traveling award.

Single asters in pastel tints centered tables late in the afternoon when the hostess served lemon pudding with iced tea and coffee. Zinnias and other flowers completed the setting.

Present were Mesdames H. E. Bueter, Charles Hossfield, F. A. Martin, W. L. Harbert, Ralph Mitchell, Earl Lepper and Grace McDonald, with the hostess.

The American tourist business approximates $3,000,000,000 annually.

Stage, Musical Events Are Highlights For Vacationing Group

Leaving yesterday afternoon for Los Angeles, Miss Lena Thomas, Miss Martha Whitson and Mrs. Hazel Northcross were to join Miss Frances Emans in a party for last night's performance of "Faust" in Pilgrimage theater, and will remain for tonight's program in Hollywood Bowl when Kirsten Flagstad will sing.

The Los Angeles visit comes as a finale to the vacation, which Mrs. Northcross and Miss Whitson have been enjoying for the past two weeks. Accompanied by Miss Emans, well known member of Los Angeles Business and Professional Women's club, they went to San Francisco by the stream-line and spent the first ten days of their vacation in that city. An interesting reunion was shared with Margaret Reed, former president of California B. and P. W., and with the present president, Mary Margaret Morgan.

Making their headquarters at Western Women's club, the Southern visitors were privileged to be invited to the luncheon with which the club complimented Gertrude Lawrence, whose work in "Susan and God" they had so greatly enjoyed at her appearance in San Francisco. Other celebrities at the luncheon included Blanche Bates, famous stage star, Gertrude Atherton, Dorothy Crawford, well-known character actress, and Miss Lawrence's leading man, Harold McGrath.

There are now 497 junior colleges in the United States, with an attendance of more than 106,000.

Laura Wheeler Knows a Beginner Can Embroider These Initials

ALPHABET PATTERN 1553

Give linens and personal accessories that touch of distinction, that initials lend. These are so easy to embroider—just single stitch and French knots (do the dots in satin stitch if you prefer)—that you'll find a monogram done in no time. Even a child can embroider them and learn young to be proud of her handiwork. Pattern 1553 contains a transfer pattern of one 2 1/4 inch alphabet, two 1 1/4 inch and two 3/4 inch alphabets; information for placing initials and monograms; illustrations of stitches; color suggestions.

Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to Register Needlecraft Department, Third and Sycamore streets. Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.

Grand Deputy's Visit Is Highlight Of Bethel Event

Grand Deputy Ada Lavender of Long Beach made an inspection visit to Santa Ana Bethel Job's Daughters Wednesday evening at a Masonic temple, where a large group of members and several guests assembled for special features.

Miss Esther Belle Christian, honored queen, conducted the meeting, which featured initiation of Miss Marilyn Rasmussen.

Pink amaryllis lilies and rosebuds brightened the banquet room, which had been decorated by Miss Marjorie Ball and a committee composed of the Misses Harriet Sturgeon, Margaret Thompson and Catherine Lindley. Refreshments were served by the Misses Phyllis Adams, Margaret Faerber, Marjorie Boardman, Eleanor Lacy and Lorraine Lewis.

Next Sunday will bring an all day affair at which Job's Daughters will be hostesses in their recreation hall at Forest Home. Picnic luncheon will be served. Members, their families, and De Molays and their families are invited to attend.

Following the next meeting on

DINNER BELL
Calls the Appetite for dinner... with DINNER BELL For Salads AND FOR SANDWICHES

September 14 will be a beach party at White Bridge. Initiation will take place at a regular meeting, September 28, at 7:30 p. m. in the temple. Preceding the event will be a 6:30 o'clock covered dish dinner for members and families, with Mothers' Circle in charge, Miss Chelena McBurney will head decorating committee.

Announcement was made that Job's Daughters Council will have a dinner meeting September 7 in the home of Frank Sawyer, associate guardian, 1322 Durant street.

DOG FOOD GOES SCIENTIFIC

BERKELEY, Cal. (UP)—So numerous are the demands made on the department of household science of the University of California, by dog food manufacturers for accurate information on dog diets, that the department now maintains a pure bred Cocker Spaniel colony for experimental purposes.

85th Birthday Given Quiet Celebration

Philip Michael's 85th birthday anniversary today was given quiet observance in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoff, 1331 South Parton street, where the celebrant resides.

Mr. Michael has been quite ill for the past several months, and was not able to receive anyone other than members of the family and close friends. His four daughters, Mrs. Frank Cannon, Mrs. Louis Hoff, Mrs. Charles Hoff and Miss Isophene Michael, spent the afternoon with him.

Joining them tonight for covered-dish dinner in the garden of the home will be the two Messrs. Hoff, Mr. Cannon, Miss Mary Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hemphill of Burbank, son-in-law and daughters of the Charles Hoff.

Mr. Michael, a native of Germany, arrived in the United States when he was just a boy. He resided in Illinois before coming to California several years ago.

VISITING IN IOWA

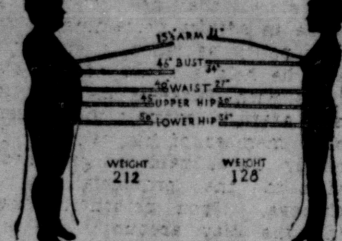

Two young people of Ames, Iowa, Miss Mary Bush and her brother, John Bush, who have been making an extended visit in California, left early this week by automobile for their Iowa home, and were accompanied by Miss Margaret Crocker who will visit in Ames until just before the opening of the school year.

The brother and sister spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crocker and their daughter, Miss Margaret, of 1530 North Sycamore street. All were former friends in Ames, although the Crockers have been making their home up in Washington until they came to Santa Ana in the early summer. Miss Margaret will enter high school in September for her senior year.

Mrs. Crocker has many club interests but reserves her special enthusiasm for the League of Women Voters, and not only was president of the Ames organization but held high offices in the Iowa state organization.

CAROL STEERS RUMANIA WITH FULL FREEDOM

BUCHAREST (UP)—King Carol alone is responsible now for the management of Rumania's domestic and foreign affairs.

Parties Abolished

The parliamentary regime in Rumania has been ended and the political parties abolished. Carol has shown that he prefers to act alone in affairs pertaining to foreign policy as when, a short time ago, he held a series of conversations with Turkey's dictator, Kemal Ataturk, without the presence of a member of his cabinet. Recently Carol paid an unexpected visit to the provincial town of Craiova. Upon personally examining the city accounts, the king discovered irregularities which led to the suspension of 11 officials.

Supporters say that Carol has demonstrated considerable courage in his ruthless suppression of the Rumanian "Iron Guard," an organization with Fascist tendencies.

Farm Problem Vital
Foremost on Carol's list of problems that must be solved stand the agrarian question, the suppression of graft and corruption, and the Jewish problem.

Rumania's population is 85 per cent peasant, and drew a comfortable living from the exported wheat surplus before the war. Development of great grain producing regions in North and South America deprived the primitively outfitted Rumanian peasant—many still use the wooden plow—of many of his former markets. The oil industry served also to relegate agriculture to an inferior position. The standard of living of the Rumanian peasant fell to a very low level.

The government has taken active measures to solve this problem, centering its attention upon modernization of equipment and of method. Credit totaling $8,000,000 have been placed at the disposal of peasants' co-operatives to aid individuals in renovating their homes and replacing their implements. Last year the government furnished the co-operatives with 400 tractors and was so heartened by the results as to expand the program this year.

Peasants Being Educated
Education of the peasant is largely carried out through the government youth organization. Members stay with peasant families, teaching modern methods of planting. These trained young people also encourage the home crafts such as weaving, spinning, wood carving in the homes they visit. They try also to inculcate in the peasant a greater interest in social projects and trying to get their co-operation in the building and repairing of roads.

Graft and corruption perhaps are those abuses which the government is trying hardest to eliminate. The imposition of drastic punishments on offenders thus far has not been very successful. Since insufficient salary has been advanced as the most powerful cause, government salaries have been increased 15 per cent, but the cabinet also has made plans for a campaign to educate officials in honest government.

Semitic Problem
The Semitic problem was brought to the forefront by the measures of the short-lived Goga cabinet last spring. These include the closing of newspapers owned or operated by Jews, naturalization restrictions and similar decrees. The incorporation in Rumania of parts of Austria-Hungary and Russia with an important Jewish element created a new Jewish problem after the war. It was to solve this that the edicts of the Goga cabinet were promulgated. Many of them, as the newspaper law and the naturalization decree, which may lead to the expulsion of 10,000 Jews because of a revision of naturalization documents, have remained in force.

TURTLE BEARS 1897 MARK
EAST DENNIS, Mass. (UP)—Enoch E. Walker has found a small gopher turtle on whose shell J. J. Martin carved his name June 17, 1897. The gopher—or box—turtle is six inches long and four inches across. Such turtles seldom grow larger.

"Say, did I leave a bag of cement instead of flour here this morning?"

SEEK IDENTITY OF SEA VICTIM

Can this man be from Santa Ana or Orange county?

That today was the question in the minds of local police after they had received a copy of the daily police bulletin of the Los Angeles police department.

The bulletin carried the grim photograph of the lifeless face of a man whose body recently was found floating in the ocean near the Venice, Calif., pier and whose identity still is baffling to Southern California authorities.

The man is described as being an American, between 55 and 60 years old, five feet and eight and one-half inches tall, weighing 145 pounds, grey hair, blue eyes, and of medium build. He was wearing blue pants, grey shirt, brown sweater, low black shoes, black socks, and a belt with a white buckle initialed "W."

Police Chief Floyd Howard and his staff requested that any information concerning the identity of the man be telephoned at once to headquarters whence it will be relayed to Venice police.

According to an expert, noise no matter how intense, seldom disturbs the person making it.

"CROWD ROARS" AT WEST COAST TODAY

As Tommy McCoy, the boy who fought his way from the slums to the heights, Robert Taylor presents the finest, most vigorous acting job in his career in "The Crowd Roars," which opens today at the West Coast theater along with the mystery thriller, "Mr. Moto Takes a Chance."

"The Crowd Roars" is the answer to the plea for action in pictures, with Taylor putting every ounce of energy and ability into his prize-fighting role. The picture is packed with thrills, warm romance, and gripping suspense.

A cast of champions supports the star: Frank Morgan as his father, ex-vauville trapper; Edward Arnold as the gambler behind the scenes of the fight game; Maureen O'Sullivan as his daughter; and Jane Wyman as her school chum and rival for Taylor's affections; William Gargan as the ex-light-heavyweight champ killed in the ring by Taylor, his former pupil; Lionel Stander, Nat Pendleton, Isabel Jewell and Gene Reynolds.

Mr. Moto, the mystery master of fiction and film fame, returns to the screen in "Mr. Moto Takes a Chance," with Peter Lorre in

DIFFICULT DECISIONS

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

the starring role and with a supporting cast headed by Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and J. Edward Bromberg. Amid the treachery of the Far East, Mr. Moto through his use of clever disguises, pits his intelligence against the craftiest killers of the jungle. With a captive girl, a newsreel cameraman and his assistant, the famous detective fights his way out of weird and dangerous traps to overcome all obstacles in a dramatic climax.

FRIENDS ENTERTAINED

FULLERTON, Aug. 26.—Monte Fisher was host to a group of his school friends Wednesday evening. The evening was spent playing cards, badminton and dancing.

Among those present were Earlene Rickett, Viv Cadman, Della Sheets, Nellie Mae Johnson, Kate Gillian, Pauline Crocker, Loretta Flanagan, Cyranabelle Griggs, Marge Lowry, April Stemple, Dot Jenkins, Vena Copeland, Bob Gabor, Kenny Wygal, Dave Everett, Jack Browne, Norval Granz, Roger Jamison, Sam Collins Jr., Roy Schumaker, Bruce Butler, Jack Farley, Ral Heyener and Stanley Olsen.

Poised she stands . . . alluring, eager . . . ready to plunge into the tides of life with gay courage and spirit.

Drawn by Alfred Buell

ALL of us admire those vital people to whom each morning opens as a new adventure . . . a day to be lived with dash and gusto.

For all who love variety in living, Kellogg has created an unusual new treat — ALL-RYE Flakes.

Rye — food for fitness — is a grand source of wholesome nourishment. Kellogg has taken the whole grain, flaked and toasted it into a crisp ready-to-eat cereal. That wonderful tangy rye flavor has been brought out to the fullest.

Everybody in the family will be delighted with ALL-RYE Flakes. Serve tomorrow with milk or cream. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EATING TROUBLES

Here is a little boy, almost four years old, making his mother old before her time by his poor eating habits. His mother seats him, in his pajamas, on the window seat; takes her position before him, bowl in one hand, spoon in the other, and says, "Come, eat your breakfast. Please. Be a good boy. Then I'll take you out."

Little son gazes stolidly out of the window, his appearance suggesting nothing so much as a young saint, apart from this world and its concerns. Not by so much as a quiver of his eyelid does he acknowledge his mother's presence. She draws his robe about his neck to shield him against the draught from the closed window. He does not move. She presses the spoon to his lips. He turns his head away. This goes on for a quarter of an hour. Something moves him. He opens his mouth, without change of expression, and takes in the spoonful of food.

At last. He is going to eat his breakfast cereal. No, he is not. He is holding it in his mouth. Mother pleads. She scolds. She shakes him. He makes no sign. Silent, seemingly unresisting, he sits holding the food in his mouth. For more than an hour his mother struggles. Gives up. Takes off robe and pajamas and dresses him. He is ready to walk in the park. "Eat your cereal before you go. Be a good boy." He shakes his head, his mouth shut firmly. Out he goes empty, and quite content.

Through the day he will eat bits as it pleases him. He gets enough to nourish him, for he is sturdy, up-to-standard weight. He is intelligent and healthy. He plays well, sleeps well. But mealtime is his time for drama. What is his mother to do?

It is too bad to have to say it, but usually, in such cases, the mother can do very little to change things. It was she who set them as they are. She let the child sleep as long as he slept. She let him go to bed when he decided it was time. Meals, especially breakfast, came at his call. Mother kept feeding him from a spoon long after he should have been feeding himself. She taught him that his eating meant life and death to her, not to him. The dramatic breakfast hour is the result of her training, or lack of it.

Years will change the child's habits, but in the meantime, mother and child, suffer. If it is possible to take the child away from his mother for a while, or have his mother go for a vacation, and let somebody else look after him, someone who does not hang on his every breath as his mother does, he can be reconditioned to eating.

His mother cannot do it. His eating habits are associated with his mother and his home. He can be taught new habits sooner if he is taken to a new place, attended by another person, set in a new environment for a while. When his habits are changed he can be taken home and the routine continued. But his mother must not give him his breakfast nor appear while he is eating it for some time afterward. He must be set in the new way before she returns to the scene.

Children copy the attitude of those who feed them. Make it a matter of course; so will they. Make it ones personal anxiety and the children will let it be just that.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled "Crying Children," in which he tells parents how to cope with the crying habit in children. Send for it. Address your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent envelope).

COUNCIL ORDERS PLANS FOR BEACH CENTER

DELAY ACTION ON COMMISSION

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 26.—Donald Beach Kirby, Balboa Island architect, was authorized to draw preliminary plans for the proposed recreational center at Corona del Mar, in order that the work might be filed as a PWA project when the city council held an adjourned meeting yesterday. The mayor and the city clerk were authorized to sign the contract.

Following complaint made to the city council, City Engineer R. L. Patterson was instructed to order the removal of a piling used to moor a boat owned by Frank A. Andrews, of 1504 South Bay Front, Balboa Island. Complaint was made by Commodore H. F. Batchelor of the Balboa Yacht club and a number of club members.

No action was taken on the request of the planning commission that the county supervisors be requested to appoint a harbor commission.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR ANNUAL SWIMMING EVENTS AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 26.—Complete plans for the amateur swimming meet scheduled here tomorrow were announced today. Hank Chapman, junior college diving champion of Southern California and Floyd Haxton, champion diver for Southern California high schools, have been selected to judge the diving contests, of which there will be four.

In general charge of the meet will be Frank Crocker, head of life saving at Newport-Balboa. Working with him will be Richard Spaulding, assistant coach at the Newport Harbor union high school. A special committee from the Twenty-Third club will serve as judges, timekeepers and in all the other offices for the swim-fest.

Opening with a diving exhibition at 10:30 a.m. on the Bay front at Balboa, the meet will continue until noon, when there will be a short recess, commencing at 1 o'clock with the first of the series of 29 different swim contests. The diving exhibition will be followed by the diving contests and the long distance event, the swim across the main channel to Balboa Island.

Special Newport harbor championship medals will be awarded in all events by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the swim meet this year. Mayor Harry Williamson of the city of Newport Beach has been invited to award the medals immediately following the close of the contests.

Kiwanians Hold Dinner Sept. 8

LA HABRA, Aug. 26.—The local Kiwanis club will hold its annual ladies' night program September 8. The affair will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Prantz on North Fullerton road. The barbecue supper will be followed by a varied program of interest.

C. Jack Zinn was chosen this week as the new lieutenant governor for this district of Kiwanis International. His formal election will take place at the annual convention to be held at Santa Monica in October.

Anaheim Conducts Archery Tourney

ANAHEIM, Aug. 26.—Two days of archery tournament, the first in Anaheim's history and slated to become an annual event, saw Betty Bungay with probably the best record for the two days.

Betty took first place in her age group, 16 to 18 years, for flight shooting and second for target. Doug Ingram, in the same age group, reversed the first and second places. Jim Starr followed in both groups.

For 12 to 14 years, Austin Olson took first for both target and flight shooting, with Bob McBride, Rex Ingram and Phil McCracken, scoring also in flight shooting and Bill Taft and Paul McCracken in target shooting.

For boys under 11, Don Bauer was first at both target and flight, Paul McCracken and Robert Albin placing for target and Tommy Webb and Jimmie Westenkuehler, for flight.

Officials were Miss Margaret Gilman, director, Miss Jean Gordon, Miss Elinor Baker and Mrs. Verna Hobson.

Danz Gives Talk In Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 26.—Louis Danz, noted Santa Ana artist and musical critic, gave a reading and review yesterday afternoon at the Art Gallery to a large audience of interested listeners.

Introduced by the Rev. Julia Budlong of the Unitarian church of Santa Ana, Danz covered two of his own works, "A Psychologist Looks at Art" and "Zarathustra." "Looks at Art," a student of philosophy and psychology, Danz returned recently from a six-month stay in Europe, during which he visited such notables as Picasso, Jacob Epstein, Henry Moore, and other prominent figures in art and sculpture.

SERIAL STORY

HAYWIRE HOUSE

BY EDWIN RUTT

Yesterday: The day of the fore-closure approaches and Kinks and Sally are desperate. Then Kinks has a last-minute idea!

CHAPTER XVII
ON the day that she was to lose her home, Sally Pennington found Mrs. Clipstock in a state. "This is a crazy house," Mrs. Clipstock said darkly. "I cook a nice, hot lunch and four of 'em don't come to eat it."

"What four?" asked Sally listlessly.

Mrs. Clipstock enumerated. "Mr. Parker, that French hocus pocus man, and those two hoodlums in shirtsleeves."

"Where are they?" said Sally. "I don't know. I heard them shouting outside about an hour ago. But they didn't come in."

"Well, if they haven't sense enough to eat they can go hungry for all I care," said Sally.

"Sit down, dearie," said Mrs. Clipstock, noting Sally's tired face. "And let me give you a nice cup of tea."

Sally shook her head. "I don't want anything."

The thought of losing this place made Sally sick. To lose this house, the only home she had, the place she loved above all others. Oh, it was too rotten. She crossed the lawn swiftly, holding back the tears with a tremendous effort. And then, suddenly, she came to an abrupt halt.

Sally Pennington

left her at the crucial moment. And here he was, with the loss of their inheritance not two hours away, blithely shooting crap. It was too much. Sally Pennington put her face in her hands.

In the barn the Great Pierre was very hot. He had started slowly, but now the dice were rolling his way. His pile of money grew. He made pass after pass. He doubled his stakes recklessly. And still he won. He won consistently.

"Geez, Frenchy," said Bull Griffin moodily, faking $10, "dis must be yer game. I never see such luck."

THE voice of Kinks Parker, raised in a chanty singsong, was proceeding from the barn. "C'mon, Adar," Kinks was imploring. "Adar from Decatur, a treat me right. Eight's m' point an' eight's m' motion. Swing it, bones, an' let's go to town. Are you ready? Then, go! Hot diggity."

Postponing her cry for a moment, Sally crept to the barn and peered in at the door.

Kneeling in a circle were Kinks Parker, the Great Pierre, Bull Griffin and Mr. Tony Spaldini. Each had money before him, but the Great Pierre had more than the others. A little mountain of greenbacks rose in front of him. Even as Sally looked the dice were his and he rolled them with a grand Continental flourish. On the running-board of one of the cars, not playing but absorbed in the game, sat Mr. C. K. Titus.

No one noticed Sally. And it was a good thing. For the tears came suddenly now, like rain in Pago Pago. She turned, fled down to the river and flung herself on the grass. Kinks had simply walked out of his responsibilities. He claimed he loved her, wanted to marry her. But he'd peered in at the door.

"Well," he cried, "I'm cleaned out. You guys go ahead." He dashed suddenly from the barn.

How long she'd been crying, Sally Pennington didn't know. She felt herself lifted suddenly.

"Where's that $400?" Kinks Parker was shouting in her ear. She looked at him blankly, the tears streaming down her cheeks. "In m-my handbag," she said. "A—check. But you—you . . . don't you touch me. I hate you. You . . ."

"Nuts," cut in Kinks. "Come on."

He seized her wrist and raced her across the lawn. Sally's car stood in the driveway. To Kinks' amazement, C. K. Titus sat in the back.

"I'm coming with you," said C. K. Titus.

There wasn't time to find out why. Kinks pushed Sally in. The car roared out of Mrs. Preston's grounds.

At the bank in Winstock Mr. Spencer Ames sat with a smile playing about his lips. He looked across the desk at his son Wilton. "Well," he said, "they've got just half an hour. They can't make it. We've played our cards very well, Wilton, and we'll show a handsome profit. We . . ."

There was a sudden commotion outside his office. The voice of Bettinson, one of the clerks, rose in expostulation.

"But you can't go in there," expostulated Bettinson. "Mr. Ames is busy. You . . ."

MR. BETTINSON never finished it. There was the unmistakable sound of a jaw being socked. Something heavy crashed. The door of Mr. Ames' office was flung violently open. The next instant Sally Pennington, Kinks Parker and an unassuming, unknown gentleman stood in the room. Spencer Ames struggled to his feet.

"What is the meaning of this?" he demanded angrily.

Kinks marched to the desk. With a quick gesture he flung down a check for $400 and $200 in bills.

"The meaning is," he said, "that we keep the old homestead for another six months, at least. And you"—he whirled suddenly on Wilton—"you dirty, little rat. I'd like to plaster you all over the state of Connecticut."

Sally came to life. If anybody was going to raise the devil with Wilton Ames, she thought that it should be she.

"And let me tell you this, Wilton Ames," she snapped. "If you ever so much as—as look at me again, I'll slap your face so hard that your head will ring till Christmas."

Spencer Ames sat down gasping. Wilton, however, glowered palely at Kinks.

"You can't break in here and talk to me like that," he snarled. "I . . ."

It was all Kinks wanted. He had just socked one jaw. And he felt exactly like socking another. After all, a man can't fly on one wing.

A sports writer would have described that haymaker as starting in the press box. It came through the air in a swift arc and landed on the jaw of Mr. Wilton Ames. Mr. Wilton Ames went out like a light.

Stop on the way to Typing Class and let us show you how to get full advantage of the course!

Being a good typist these days isn't quite enough for an ambitious person . . . if you want to go places, you must be VERY good!

We've been in this business a long time and we've never known a better answer than HOME PRACTICE! Practice is essential . . . the more you practice, the better your chances are.

That's why we urge renting a typewriter or buying a Tiernan-Rebuilt machine, for HOME PRACTICE!

DRIVE CAREFULLY
—SAVE A LIFE—

SUBSIDIZING ARIZONA AND TEXAS CITRUS FRUIT

Our political educators who contend that they make a profit on out-of-state students, who pay absolutely nothing for the right to attend Santa Ana Junior College and which costs the citizens of California $250 per pupil, are, in reality, subsidizing citrus fruit from Arizona and Texas and other agricultural products from other states.

This is true because the cost of this schooling is charged against the taxpayers in California so that the cost of their product is increased and the citrus growers from Arizona and Texas have a lower tax rate, by this amount, so that they can undersell us in these products.

And yet, we think we are educating our youth, when we have politicians at the head of schools who have such a theoretical conception of values and costs!

CHISELERS OFF RELIEF

At a meeting of the Orange County Property Owners' Protective Association, Mr. Lewis Burkenstock, of Placentia, suggested that possibly the best way to get people who were not entitled to relief off the relief rolls was to have the names of those who received relief made public. He pointed out that the name of the man who was not able to pay his taxes was published and it was no more than fair, as a protection to society in keeping those who were not entitled to relief off relief, that those who received relief be published.

This plan, of course, would be objected to by the politicians who want to buy votes by giving more and more people relief and if the names of those receiving relief were made easily accessible to all people in the community there probably would be many less people on relief. The stigma of receiving relief was one of the reasons why people kept out of the poor house; and when this stigma is removed, as it is now under the present Federal system of even insisting that checks payable to recipients of relief are not marked "indigent" and even objecting to them being handed with the check marked "Welfare Department," the chiselers accept relief without reluctance.

If the names were made public, the citizens who were helping support the unfortunates would be able to assist the Welfare Department in preventing abuse being made of the principle of assisting those who really need assistance.

The relief problem is one that is baffling every serious minded person in our country and if it continues to go as it has in the past, even those who are entitled to relief eventually will suffer.

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

Interest in gardening which is increasing yearly throughout the nation will be augmented here this fall by the third annual Orange County fall flower show to be held at the Valencia ballroom on 101 highway on September 10 and 11. Clubwomen of the county have been working since June making preparations for the event and the show is expected to surpass in wide variety of exhibits and in beauty, either of the two previous shows.

One of the new projects this year will be a junior division of miniature landscapes and gardens made and entered by boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 16 years. Interest of boys and girls of the community in gardening was evidenced at the highly successful flower show held at the Julia Lathrop Junior high school last spring and the junior project at the fall show is being anticipated with interest.

One of the objectives of garden clubs of the county the past year has been to interest children and young people in the joys of gardening. School gardens, one of the most outstanding of which has been at the Roosevelt school, have been in operation in this city for many years, where flowers have been carefully tended and bouquets numbering well up into the hundreds have been distributed.

A co-operative spirit is found among the young gardeners, teachers report, which extends to other school activities. Gardeners both young and old find one of their greatest joys in sharing blossoms, plants, seeds and cuttings with others and so amateur gardeners of the county will place on display and share the beauty of their gardens with all who care to see, at the annual flower show next month.

DOCTORS' "MONOPOLY"

(Life Magazine)

At the National Health Conference in Washington (LIFE, Aug. 8) the American Medical Association was attacked on all sides for its opposition to "group medicine." Last week the Department of Justice wielded against doctors an unexpected weapon. Filed in Federal court was a complaint charging the A.M.A. with "monopolistic practices" in its fight against the Group Health Association of Washington. This organization was formed last year by 2,500 Federal employees to provide low-cost medical care. The Government charges that the A. M. A. threatened to expel any doctor who served the Group, and caused Group doctors to be excluded from Washington hospitals. There is great doubt that the Government's complaint will ever come to trial. On the one hand, the Department of Justice would have a hard time making a monopoly charge stick against a professional association. On the other hand, the A. M. A. would gain nothing but ill will by further public airing of its attitude. Group medicine has proved its value and sooner or later, gracefully or otherwise, the A. M. A. will bow to public opinion.

AN EDITORIAL

(By John Stuart Mill)

"A people may prefer a free government; but if from indolence, or carelessness, or cowardice, or want of public spirit, they are unequal to the exertions necessary for preserving it; if they will not fight for it when directly attacked; if they can be deluded by the artifices used to cheat them out of it; if by momentary discouragement or temporary panic, or a fit of enthusiasm for an individual, they can be induced to lay their liberties at the feet of even a great man, or trust him with powers which enable him to subvert their institutions—in those cases they are more or less unfit for liberty."

LIBERTY OF THOUGHT

With the President determined to penalize each Congressman who believed differently than he, as to the kind of legislation necessary to make possible a higher standard of living, the statement made in the new book, "The Importance of Living," by Lin Yutang, is timely.

This book has been the best seller of non-fiction articles for the last few months.

On the subject of the Importance of Liberty, of thought, Yutang says:

"If the liberty of thought is the highest activity of the human mind, then the suppression of that liberty must be the most degrading to us as human beings. Euripides defined the slave as a man who has lost his liberty of thought or opinion. Every autocracy is a factory for turning out gorgeous Euripidean slaves. Don't we have fine examples of them, East and West, in the twentieth century and at the very home of culture? Every autocratic government, no matter in what form, therefore, is intellectually retrograde. We have seen it in the Middle Ages in general, and in the Spanish Inquisition in particular. Short-sighted politicians or clergymen may think that uniformity of belief and thought contributes toward peace and order, but historically the consequence is always depressing and degrading to the human character. Such autocrats must have a great contempt for the people in general when they do not confine themselves to ordering a nation's external conduct, but proceed also to regiment the people's inner thoughts and beliefs."

"It simply can't be done, and if the controllers of thought go too far in running against human nature itself, they are thereby sowing the seeds of their downfall. As Mencius put it, 'If the ruler considers the people as blades of grass, then the people will consider their ruler as a robber or enemy.' There is no greater robber in this world than he who robs us of our liberty of thought. Deprived of that, we might as well go down on all fours, call the whole biped experiment of walking on two legs a mistake, and revert to our earlier posture of at least some 30,000 years ago."

If there is anything in the world we want to retain, it is the independence of thought and any move by the President that penalizes a man for conscientiously and honestly speaking and voting as he believes to be for the general welfare, will certainly result, as this great Chinese writer points out.

WHAT CAN A MAN EARN?

With the law establishing a minimum wage, it might be interesting to determine how wages are measured.

If, in the final analysis, the slow and inefficient worker cannot mine enough gold at $35 an ounce, to earn 5 cents or 40 cents an hour, then we will eventually have to change our definition of a dollar.

When we establish the price of gold at $35 an ounce, this means that it requires the identical amount of energy to produce an ounce of gold as it does to produce 35 bushels of wheat, when wheat is exchanging on the ratio of 35 bushels for one ounce of gold.

It is absurd to think that wages can be established arbitrarily, in anything of value. They can be established on things that have no value in themselves but they cannot be established arbitrarily on things that have value.

It is this very attempt of believing that wages can be established arbitrarily that has largely led to inflation by credit expansion during the past few decades.

When we get away from exchanging what the workers produce for some given standard unit, like gold, we are as much at sea as an automobile without a steering gear. It jumps from one side to the other, up and down, just as we have done in the last 20 years. The question is how long we will have to try these arbitrary methods of establishing prices and wages before we realize that it will not work. It is a very expensive experiment.

IS HOMER MARTIN A RED?

Homer Martin has expelled several of the automobile officers on the contention that they are communistic and "Red." It is rather difficult to define what a "Red" is or what a Communist is. But when Homer Martin sanctions sitdown strikes and taking possession of a plant by force, it would seem he might well be called a "Red" or an anarchist.

And there are very few Communists; most of them are anarchists. They want to take possession of the fruits of other people's work by force and give nothing in return. We fail to see much difference between Martin and the men he discharged.

The circus business. A combination of unfavorable circumstances made this season one of the worst in circus history. The shows planned their routes knowing that they would have to contend with the recession, but they did not foresee that heavy rains and labor troubles would provide additional complications.

The Ringling Brothers-Barnum Bailey circus struck its tents in Scranton, Pa., and moved to winter quarters in Sarasota, Fla. A short time ago the Cole Brothers-Clyde Beatty circus abandoned its tour at Bloomington, Ill., and returned to Rochester, where it has winter quarters. The Downie Brothers circus quit in Delaware, the Sells-Sterling circus, a motorized show, closed its season in Wisconsin, and two smaller shows, operating in eastern territory, gave up the struggle.

THE REAL REASON FOR HIGH WAGES

(Christmas Club Magazine)

The reason real wages are now nearly twice as high in the United States as in the most prosperous European countries, England and Scandinavia, and much higher now than they have ever been at any time or place in history, is due to the fact that science in the form of scientific devices has been brought to the aid of the worker more fully here and now than at any other place or time.

The American worker uses more power machines than does the foreign worker, more power lathes, more washing machines, more refrigerators, more carpet sweepers, more power lawn mowers, more automatic machinery, more mass production methods. But under what heading does the economist catalogue power machines? Why they are simply what he calls capital set to work to aid the worker to produce more so that he, the worker, may have more to consume.

Fellow Citizens:

The American Medical Association is a monopoly. Let me prove it.

If you are a so-called rebel doctor and don't belong to A. M. A. and wished to practice in a government hospital or a county hospital, you wouldn't get to first base.

Again, if you discover a cure and refuse to turn it over to Dr. Fishbein and his henchmen, the heads of A. M. A., they at once call you a quack and unethical in your treatments.

Great medical men who have managed to stay free of A. M. A., such as Mayo Bros., of Rochester, Minn., Dr. McCoy, Los Angeles, Dr. Jno. R. Bunkley, Little Rock, Ark., Norman Baker, Muscatine, Iowa, Norman Bros., of Utica, N. Y. and thousands of others are branded as unethical by A. M. A. because they guarantee their work for life, and refuse to divulge their cures to A. M. A. for Fishbein, Sharpe, Dolans, Parke Davis to make millions for their own pockets.

Mr. Baker sued the A. M. A. for three million dollars, and judgment, this is a matter of record in Chicago courts. I could write page after page about the petty things A. M. A. has done in order to have complete control of all medical practice in the United States.

There isn't one of these so-called rebel doctors who wouldn't turn their cures over to the government free if the government broke away from the American Medical Association. They have stated their desire to do so in all of their literature. I repeat, compulsory by law, is our only sal-utary way, and we will stay one of the sickest nations on earth if we string along with Dr. Fishbein and his henchmen.

If you want the rich to get richer and the poor to get poorer and sicker just string along with Fishbein and his henchmen.

Fellow Citizens:

I have no doubt the community was shocked by the fanatical self-mutilation of the Merced woman, mentioned in Wednesday's paper. We can hardly conceive that such superstitions ignorance is abroad in this fair state. I trust you will allow me space to give a word of kindly warning. Because if an antidote is not given, we may discover that some one in our own county will follow the same crude way to gain notoriety. Religious swims, and you can count on business management to know a lot more accurately how far that can be done than any official kibitzer. There may be a few spots in industry where prices are kept stiffly jacked up by some violation of the Anti-Trust laws, but not enough to make any marked improvement in our economy by softening them.

There is an inflexible element in industrial prices but that isn't it. The cast-iron backbone of the price structure that can't be cut is high inflexible taxes to the tune of 20 per cent of all price and it is getting larger and stiffer with every year that passes. It hurts everybody—farmers, workers and industrialists alike.

self-mutilations usually follow the rule of three.

It is time we realized that religion is a reasonable expression of a normal life. We should also remember, if a belief is not reasonable, it is not true. Voltaire used to say, explain religion in the simple terms of numbers, and you will convert the world. Certainly the act of the Merced woman is too revolting to consider as religion. It is worse than paganism.

We must not forget that the Bible is Eastern literature. It abounds in metaphors, and symbols. Occasionally, when Jesus wished to drive home a truth, he used an hyperbole. The 'hyperbole' is a statement so grossly untrue or exaggerated that its opposite is true. To believe that Jesus taught self-mutilation is gross ignorance of both grammar and religion. What Jesus meant was, dig out the cause of the trouble. Usually it would be a mistaken viewpoint, a wrong idea. In order to do what is right and kind, a person may have to sacrifice something which is considered of high value. But to literally cut off an arm, or gouge out an eye is pure stupidity. Jesus was not such a fool as to advocate such a revolting practice.

Another hyperbole Jesus used is clearly seen, when he told his disciples that except they ate his body and drank his blood they could not be his true followers. Certainly Jesus did not mean that they take his statement literally, because it would have meant cannibalism. It is apparent, Jesus meant something far different from feasting on a human body.

Many other instances could be mentioned, but we must refrain. Let this be said, however, it is time we explained religion in simple terms, so that "a wayfaring man, though a fool will not err therein." It is apparent, we cannot take the Bible seriously. It needs to be taken with a grain of salt, and an occasional mental bath. To use the Bible as a religious fetish is to bring trouble. It always must be subjected to the light of reason, and scientific knowledge.

If your children read the article—be sure to disinfect their minds. Otherwise, it will blight their religious outlook.

Fellow Citizens:

A short time ago an Olson caravan led by two motorcycle cops went ballyhooing down Seventeenth street in Costa Mesa, reminding the voters that they are now beset by a bunch of political blatherers trying to out promise each other in radicalism and allegiance to their great medicine man. If what these promisers are each other is half true, they have a quarantine to protect us from mad dogs and we surely need one to save us from cock-eyed office seeking parasites who are heading for Russianized dictatorship. Perhaps it may be already too late, as they are garnering followers like a stale fish draw-ers. These great friends of labor always mouthing what they are doing and what they expect to do for the downtrodden; just why do they not spend a few of the thousands of dollars they dopes send in, to start some factories or business and run it on the ones holding the sack.

SOME PRICES ARE RIGID

By ERNEST MINOR PATTERSON
President, American Academy of Political and Social Science

In Washington there is a Temporary National Economic Committee whose membership includes six members of Congress and representative agencies. It is undertaking to investigate a number of matters of general economic importance to the country, but according to reports special attention will be given to what is called "price rigidity."

Some prices move up and down rather freely and within wide limits. As has been pointed out before in this column, prices of many agricultural products are a good illustration of this tendency. Such prices are often called "flexible." They have very little "rigidity." Flexibility would ordinarily be unimportant to the farmers if the prices of what they buy were equally flexible and in the same direction, that is, moving up when agricultural prices move up and down when agricultural prices move down.

Many other prices are inflexible or rigid—move up or down only a little. This is true to the extreme in the case of postage stamps. It is also clearly true, though to a less degree, of street car fares, of rail-ways rates and of charges for electric current. Prices charged for such services can be changed only with the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission or some other public body. Controls of these public utility charges are eminently proper, but the price rigidity thus introduced often raises serious difficulties.

But this price rigidity exists also in many other lines. Several years two economists—Berle and Means—called this to attention by pointing out a number of contrasting price movements between 1929 and the spring of 1933. In that period the prices of agricultural commodities declined 63 per cent, of textile products 45 per cent, of food products 40 per cent, etc. But in the same time period the prices of agricultural implements declined only 15 per cent, of motor vehicles 10 per cent, of cement 18 per cent, etc. It is very important to notice these points. One is that the producers in this second group could not or did not maintain their former volume of sales. Instead production of agricultural implements declined 8 per cent, of motor vehicles 30 per cent, of iron and steel 33 per cent, etc. During the same period the output of agricultural commodities declined only 6 per cent, of food products only 14 per cent, etc. Prices can not long be held firm unless production is limited.

The other point to notice is that there is no charge that the rigid prices are under monopoly control. In some cases they may be. Perhaps there are monopoly controls in some places where we do not suspect them. It seems probable, however, that the explanation is quite different. In fields where there are only a few large competitors there is a tendency for each to look ahead carefully and to adjust his production to the probable market demand, counting on the others to do the same. This is called "administrative control" rather than "monopoly control."

These administrative controls are not entirely new. Some students insist that rigid prices are no more serious factor than they were many years ago. But rigidity of some prices and flexibility of others cause trouble. It is to be hoped that the Temporary National Economic Committee will not merely accumulate information, but will make constructive suggestions for relief.

At present there is a considerable body of economic opinion to the effect that the situation would be helped materially if there could be a definite attempt made to lower these rigid prices, but the problem is that of persuading a producer that he can do this without financial loss or even bankruptcy. There may be some who could actually sell so much more at lower prices that it would pay them to do so.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—Inside story of what happened to the Dies committee investigating Fascism and Communism is not quite plain, particularly to the committee men. All they know is they were getting along fine as long as they were investigating Fascism. Things began to happen to them when they started in on Communism.

Their witnesses started making stupid blunders like bringing in the name of Shirley Temple. A Republican committeeman brought in the name of Mrs. Roosevelt. A Democratic committeeman packed up and went home. Another Democratic committeeman shied away and said he could have no more of such a business. Inside pressure began to descend from the administrative branch of government. The labor department failed to answer committee letters. The justice department could not spare investigators to help the committee. The committee men started complaining that they were being shadowed by investigators for the Civil Liberties committee of the senate. What Mr. Roosevelt is wont to call the "Tory Press" began to ridicule the committee.

It all adds up to something, probably many things. At any rate here is the evidence that was not brought out, and probably won't be:

At the outset the committee was having a hard time getting the justice department report on the Nazi investigation. This has never been made public. Up came Ben Cohen, member of the well-known firm Corcoran and Cohen, who proved to be a friend of the committee in need. He thought he could get the report for the committee, and did. He thought he might help in getting the income tax returns of some of the men the committee was investigating—and did. Mr. Cohen apparently knows some people.

But then the committee got into Communism, or more particularly into the long, shaggy locks of CIO's John Lewis. An AFL official was put on the stand, and he claimed a score or more of CIO leaders were members of the Communist party.

The chief investigator of the LaFollette Civil Liberties committee (which has been investigating Little Steel for Lewis) had once come over to the Dies committee and offered to lend two investigators. Such courtesy in congress is their Utopian pipe-dream plans, thus showing the Tories and hat-ed capitalists that workers can receive the fruits of their toil?

They have taken to their bosom and made a martyr of Tom Mooney, but they never mention his attempted alibi—that at the time of the dynamiting he was out throwing acid on automobiles.
